Ask Bids For New Well

State Gives O. K. But Asks Chlorination Present Water Supply

Mayor J. D. Flentie, accompanied by Alderman Geo. Schneberger and Attorney Hugo J. Thal went to Springfield last week to break the deadlock that was holding up the proposed new well for Arlington Heights. They returned home with the deadlock broken, but the O. K. of the state health department for award of a contract has a string tied to it that will mean additional expense for the village and the ultimate chlorination of all water taken from Niagara limestone.

The state health officials admitted that Arlington Heights water is free from impurities and is absolutely safe to drink, but they insist that the state wide rule regarding chlorination of all water supplies in the state be recognized and obeyed in Arlington Heights before the state board will give authority for the connection of the proposed well with existing water mains.

It seems that the state health department placed the blame for the many recent deaths at the state Manteno hospital to the fissures developing in the Niagara limestone from which the water supply for the hospital was obtained. That belief led to an order that hereafter all municipalities using water from that strata will be required to install chlorinator outfits. The order can not be enforced on old wells, but the state is withholding its O. K. on new wells unless the entire water supply, from both old and new wells, is given the treatment.

The only way that chlorination of Arlington Heights water can be avoided is to either give up all plans for a new well or to sink the proposed well 600 feet deeper, with a possibility of sulphur, and to case-off the Niagara strata. If the deep well is sunk and chlorinators are not installed on the old wells, the state would seal them off and the municipality would have to depend on the one source of supply.

Much as the village board dislikes the idea of chlorination, its members realize that the state has made it inevitable. Only a small quantity would be necessary and it is doubtful if water users will be able to detect the taste.

There will be no chlorination for the present and no equipment plans will be considered until after the new well is drilled and amount of the water supply is learned.

The village board held a special meeting Monday evening to pass the resolution authorizing the advertisement for bids, which appears on another page of this issue. The bids will be opened Dec. 16.

V. F. W. To Keep In Touch With Local Service Men

Assistance to the men of this vicinity who enter the military or naval services either voluntarily or as draftees, is the purpose of the roster to be compiled and maintained here by Arlington Post No. 981, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. The V. F. W. will also attempt to render aid and assistance to the dependent families of such men. Efforts will be made to keep in touch with the men themselves while they are in service, maintaining friendly contacts by means of letters, home newspapers and gifts.

The names and addresses of men in the service are being obtained from the local conscription board, nearby recruiting offices, relatives and all other available sources of accurate information, Commander Rizzi, Post No. 981, explained.

"The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States is supporting America's national defense program with 100 per cent cooperation," Commander Rizzi declared. "We have more than 3,500 local posts throughout the country. The members of each unit are co-operating in every possible way to speed up and facilitate every phase of the program. For many years the V. F. W. has urged the United States to develop and maintain an adequate national defense, of men, material and supplies. Now that our country is faced with the present emergency, the V. F. W. stands ready to render every practical assistance in its power."

The entire V. F. W. membership is made up of overseas veterans of American wars.

Henry Nichols Fights For C. Y. O. Crown At Coliseum

Henry Nichols, Jr. of Arlington, Heights, fought his way to the C. Y. O. finals Wednesday evening and will face Fred Dawson in the open class at the Coliseum next Wednesday evening. Entered in the 118 pound class, Nichols fulfilled the desires of his dad and his many Arlington fans by whipping all contestants thus far to give him the honor of boxing for the Championship. There's a trip out west to the champion and that's all the more reason why Nichols has no intention of failing in this last bout. Boxing will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Christmas Cheer Arrives

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Arlington Heights Trade and Civic association Monday evening, authorization was given for the placing of Christmas decorations throughout the business district. Wm. Luehring will supervise the erection of the colored lights and Christmas green about the ornamental street poles.

The association has made no recent drive for membership dues and needs funds to pay for the display of the Christmas spirit throughout the business district. The cooperation of all business firms in either payment of dues or outright donations will help the cause. Payment can be made at either the office of President J. D. Flentie, or at the office of Krause & Kehe.

Each succeeding year as funds permit, additions are made to the equipment used as decorations. Present plans call for the finest display of recent years.

Ready For Xmas Toys

Get your old toys ready. The gnomes of Arlington Heights have burnished up their workshop and are ready to administer first aid for those toys that are destined to gladden the hearts of little folks who would otherwise have a bare toy Christmas.

The repainting and repair of toys has become an annual project in Arlington Heights. Many of the toys that brought delight to your youngster last year can be rejuvenated in the gnome workshop and placed in Christmas baskets that will be distributed the day before Christmas.

Those who have toys that they desire to contribute to the cause are asked to call by phone either Mrs. Ira Parker, No. 751 or Mrs. Arthur Ashcraft, No. 366-W.

Religious Drama To Be Unfolded By Choir At Presbyterian Services

A special service at the First Presbyterian church this coming Sunday evening will feature a religious drama and music by the church choir. The drama, "Ordered South" by W. J. Noble, will be presented in three scenes by the young people of the church under the direction of Miss Mary Lou Cornick. The choral music will be under the direction of A. E. Johnson with Mrs. James Groves as accompanist.

In the play a young man desires to give his life for Christian service and his sweetheart doesn't want him to. In the complications and conflicts that arise the various motives and philosophies of human life are brought out. The parts are played by Bob Briggs, Lillian Fuhr, John Harth, Ray Boeger, Nicholas Mayer, Jr., and Ruth Koerber.

The anthems to be sung by the choir are: "A Rose of Sharon" by Schubert, and "The Lord's Prayer" by Forsyth-Kraft. There will also be a popular song service.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service of worship.

Another Expert Ready To Give Service At Winkelmann's Tire

Elroy Winkelman, of the Winkelman Tire and Battery Shop thinks that nothing is too good for his customers and spends time and money to better equip his shop and employees for correct servicing of cars brought to his shop. Few garages have a greater array or finer specialized equipment. Second to the equipment are the trained employees who operate it.

Mr. Winkelman frequently sends his men to trade schools, at his own expense who, return home equipped with specialized knowledge that enable them to do a better job for car owners.

Sam Ruskin is one of those employes. He has just returned from St. Louis where he spent four weeks at the Carter carburetor and motor tune-up school.

Way Back When—

Attorney Hugo J. Thal did not admit to the village board Monday night that it was an accident when he discovered an eleven year old unpaid special assessment bill of $90 against the village of Arlington Heights. "It had been on my books all these years," stated Mr. Thal, "but not presented because there were no available funds in the particular special assessment fund from which the money was forthcoming."

Mr. Thal's explanation was deemed sufficient by the board members and they authorized a voucher with interest.

Vehicle Tags On Sale at 25% Discount

New Traffic Lights Assured; School Board Asks For Old Ones

Arlington Heights vehicle and dog tags are on sale at a 25% discount, starting Friday. The full price will be charged after January 1. Authorization for the discount was given by the village board Monday evening. Wm. F. Meyer, assistant treasurer informed the board that he had received many applicants for the tags, and was only awaiting their arrival and the O. K. of the discount before accepting the applications. The discount last year amounted to $1,000 saving for vehicle owners. However the board considered the early sale of the tags is worth the thousand.

The board members were surprised to learn that non-residents frequently purchase the tags. Those who reside outside of a municipality and have no tag to purchase are stopped so often by the Chicago police, they are glad to spend the $3.00 to avoid the annoyance.

The 25% discount will also apply to dogs, which will be appreciated by their young masters, even if the dogs don't give a dog-gone. (They are gone if somebody does not pay it.)

Arlington Heights has talked a new traffic system of lights for the Northwest Highway for several years. It is to become a reality. While Mayor Flentie and Alderman Schneberger were in Springfield last week, they called on the highway department, which at first claimed to be unaware that Arlington had asked for a new system. After "hunting around" the desks a bit, the original request from Arlington, bearing the O. K. of the Chicago office, was unearthed and when definite plans are submitted, the state department will O. K. the installation and allot gas tax money to pay the bill.

The Arlington Heights school board recently passed a resolution asking that the old traffic lights be installed at the intersection of Euclid and State rd. and at Park ave. and State rd. as a safe guard for school children who are required to cross State rd.

With the mayor and one board member in Springfield and other board members a little forgetful, Mr. Fisher, of the Chicago Regional planning commission, who came out in his official capacity last Wednesday to confer with the zoning and appeal boards and the village trustees did not meet any of the aldermen who were a bit repentant Monday evening and authorized that an official invitation be again extended to Mr. Fisher.

The regular meeting of the board held November 18, devoted a lot of time talking over the proposed new well, which brought about the trip to Springfield and subsequent action which was taken at the special meeting this week.

Attorney Thal reported that he had checked over carefully the new contract for street lighting with the Public Service Co. and found it adequate and to the interest of the village. The finance committee reported that the November bill for street lighting, figured on the new reduced rate, brought a saving of over $80 to the municipality.

Stonegate Community club officially notified the board that the club and residents of that community favor a two way police radio.

Geo. Harris presented a report of the annual meeting of sewage treatment operators of Illinois, held at Springfield November 7-11. Mr. Harris stated that it was the best meeting of its kind he has ever attended and he received a lot of valuable information.

The street department was given authority to purchase 50 bags of calcium chloride for thawing streets this winter. A frame for the new truck for use with snow plow will cost $200.

A fifty-fifty settlement was made with the Scully Steel Co. for extra steel used in the warehouse addition to the village hall. The cost to the village is $150.

District Woman's Clubs Hold Bazaar and Fiesta

Seventh district women's clubs are holding a joint bazaar and fiesta Friday at Rivoli hall, 4384 Elston ave., Chicago, from 10 a. m. to midnight. There is something doing every minute, free entertainment, dancing, a style show, booths of Christmas gifts and seals.

Individual clubs have special booths. Arlington Heights club has an apron booth and Palatine a jelly booth. There are forty booths in all. Hourly prizes will be given from one to nine o'clock. The grand prize is a portable radio.

Henry Klehm Improving Now At Sanitarium

Henry Klehm, formerly of Arlington Heights is recovering slowly and is now at a sanitarium in Pennsylvania. He was taken ill two months ago while on a boat on Chesapeake Bay. He was first given treatments at a hospital in Baltimore.

Mr. Klehm is the father of Supervisor Gilbert Klehm, Harvey, and Elmer Klehm. Letters have been received from him by relatives here.

Public Offered Chance To Help Xmas Basket Fund

Arlington Heights Good Fellow campaign is again being launched to remember and bring Christmas cheer to those who Santa Claus forgets.

There are three ways in which anyone can help:

1. Phone Mrs. Pino, Public Health Nurse at 1387-J or Mr. Klehm, Wheeling Township Supervisor, Arlington 151, for the name and address of a deserving needy family. To this family you may take a Christmas basket and whatever you wish to contribute in the line of toys or candy.

2. By sending individual contributions to the basket fund. This money will be combined with a small balance on hand and will go to purchase Christmas baskets to be delivered to needy families. Individual contributions can be left at Krause & Kehe real estate, Flentie & Behrens real estate, or at the village treasurer's office in the village hall.

3. All civic and social organizations are invited to join in plan No. 3. Organizations are asked to appoint one member of their group to meet at a round table discussion at a date to be announced in a later issue of the Herald. Contributions will be gladly welcomed and combined with No. 2 for the purchase of baskets.

Each organization will be asked to furnish a list of needy families which will be indexed and carded to avoid duplications.

This is one of the worthiest of movements and regardless of other activities Arlington Heights people will not forget those who are less fortunate.

Veteran School Janitor Dies

Funeral services for Herman Tesch, Arlington Heights veteran school janitor, were held Monday. He had served as janitor of the Arlington Heights north side school 28 years, starting his services in 1907 and did not retire until 1935.

Mr. Tesch was always the friend of the school children. Those whom he saw enter the school during the earlier years, became parents and sent their own children to school confident that Herman Tesch would do his part in watching over the physical well being of the new generation. In his work he was ever conscientious, always willing to perform every duty assigned to him by the school board without complaint. He happily started the fires at four or five o'clock in the morning during the cold spells in order that the school rooms would be "nice and warm," as he explained it.

He felt it was his duty to watch out for the little tots before school and during recess periods. He was admired by the small children about the school and the friend of the older pupils to whom his word was law. His willingness, optimism and agreeableness made him an aid to teachers and a pleasant fellow to have around.

Until shortly before his retirement, he had the sole responsibility for the janitor work of the two school buildings.

The funeral services were held November 25, at 2:30 p. m. in St. John Evangelical church. Funeral arrangements were by Lauterburg and Oehler. The Rev. R. J. Kalwitz administered the final rite.

The deceased was the son of William Tesch and Dorothea Guenther and was born in Wheeling township on December 25, 1867. He moved with his parents to Arlington Heights in 1886 where he has resided ever since. On October 25, 1894, he was united in holy matrimony to Miss Emma Kuhlmann.

Early this autumn he showed signs of failing health until it was necessary to remove him to the Sherman hospital in Elgin on October 21, where a few days later he submitted to surgery. He died on Friday afternoon, November 22. He was 72 years old.

The deceased is mourned by his wife, Mrs. Emma Tesch; one daughter, Mrs. Esther Heuer; one son, Elmer Tesch, who made his home with his parents; two grandchildren, Ruth and James Heuer; one son-in-law, Edwin Heuer; two brothers, William and John Tesch; one sister, Mrs. Edward Lackner, and a host of other relatives and friends.

The deceased was a charter member of St. John Evangelical church and his cheerful attitude and kind disposition will long be remembered.

Interment was in the St. John cemetery on East Euclid ave. near Arlington Heights.

Quality Market is discontinuing this particular line of frozen foods and will close them out at lower prices while they last.

Co-Captains Elected For Cardinal Team

Harold Haugen and Bill Weber are the two boys elected by their teammates for the honorary captaincy of the Arlington football team. It would have been impossible to have chosen better. They were elected just before the Warren game and acquired these honors because of their contributions this season, not because of what they promised to do before the season opened.

Bill Weber was the right half back and Harold Haugen starred at guard. They were about the lightest pair in the heavyweight squad yet probably contributed more to the success of the team than any others on it.

Bill Weber will be long remembered for his brilliant twenty yard run in the closing moments of the Niles game to break up what appeared an imminent scoreless tie.

Harold (affectionately known as "H.H.") featured in the line play of the team all season. He was especially adept at breaking through on defense and smearing opponents play in their inception.

Basketball Town Teams To Play In Merle Guild Christmas Benefit Games

Merle Guild Post of the American Legion, Arlington Heights, is sponsoring an evening of two basketball games with the Arlington Racers and the Smith & Dawson teams, meeting opponents for the Christmas basket fund. The date has not been set but will be announced next week when the local teams have contracted with the other teams for the benefit game.

Arlington Racers are facing the Barrington town team in their weekly cage game next Tuesday evening at the Arlington township high school gymnasium. The local town team has piled up a reputable victory string even at such an early date in the basketball season. Francis Reuse, of Palatine, who was a member of the De Paul university team for four years, has joined the ranks of the Racers and will make them all the more formidable. The Barrington team is made up of college stars from five colleges including Knox and Carroll colleges.

SEEK CAGE PLAYERS

Smith & Dawson, developers of Prospect Heights, are again sponsoring a community basketball team this year and are inviting all cage players to come to the high school Thursday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock and try out for the team.

Furniture Needed

There is a family in Arlington Heights which was recently deprived of its household furniture by a fire. The unfortunate family has not asked for, nor have any donation parties been held for its benefit. However, there is great need for furniture of the following description:

Living room furniture.
Kitchen table and chairs.
Dishes and kitchen utensils.
Bed clothing, etc.

Any person who has articles of the above nature to supply are asked to call the relief office, phone Arlington Heights 151.

With receipt of above furniture, the family will be in a position to "start again" in living quarters of its own.

The L. L. L. of the St. Peter Lutheran church will have its regular monthly meeting this week Friday instead of next week. Mr. Ninneman of Des Plaines, member of the international board of directors and field secretary of the Northern Illinois district of the L. L. L., will bring an important message to the club members regarding the new method of financing the national Lutheran Hour. This matter is of vital importance and all members are therefore urged to be present and become acquainted with the new plan. A cordial greeting also awaits all visitors and prospective members. After the meeting and lecture there will be a game of competitive shuffle board.

Zoning Authority Advises Local Boards

Combined Boards Will Hasten New Zoning

The five members of the Arlington Heights board of appeals and two members of the zoning board met with Mr. Fisher of the Chicago Regional Planning commission last Wednesday and "talked over" ways and means to hasten the rezoning of Arlington Heights. The conference was asked by Henry Muller, president of the zoning board in order that there could be a clearer understanding of the duties of the two boards.

Mr. Fisher suggested that all five members of the appeal board be added to the membership of the zoning board which has direct charge of the rezoning work. The suggestion will be presented to the members of the village board by Mr. Muller next Monday evening with the recommendation that the change be made.

Under the present plans, a large map of the village is to be prepared on which will be designated the "occupancy" of each lot by means of colored pins, which will enable the zoning board to get a clearer picture of the status of the various sections of Arlington Heights regardless of present zoning. "Just because a vacant tract is today zoned for business is no reason why it should remain in that class when a change to residential will make possible the development of adjoining property and in fact raise the value of the property in question," stated Mr. Fisher.

He pointed out that property on the east side of south Evergreen street is undeveloped because State road is zoned for business. The FHA will not allow as high loans on residential property adjacent to business as on purely residential property.

Christmas Seal Funds Help To Protect Children From Disease

Mrs. J. M. Sommer, president of the parent-teacher association of the Arlington Heights public schools, remarked this week that she believed that mothers and teachers were pleased that children of school age appear on the 1940 Christmas Seal.

Schools realize their role in the health campaign of the nation and P.-T. A.'s are glad to foster the interest engendered in the classroom in healthful, hygienic living.

"The happy glowing faces on the Christmas Seal seem to say 'protect us from tuberculosis'," Mrs. Sommers added. "We can do our share by purchasing seals, knowing that the money we donate goes toward making our community a healthier place for our own children.

"Our children who know the value of preventitive medicine so much better than did our generation will be eager to respond to the appeal of these winsome children on the Christmas Seal."

Last year the Christmas Seal funds made possible the tuberculin testing of 74 per cent of the high school students — nearly all who consented to such test. Chest X-rays of all positive reactors and the services of a nurse to follow-up the testing project were all financed from the Christmas Seal funds.

Seals may be secured from the chairman of the sale, Mrs. John Allen or from Sieburg's drug store or by getting in touch with any of the schools in cases where a name has been missed in the mail sale.

Having enlisted October 8 and undergone rigorous training since that time, Herbert has earned quick advancement, becoming company clerk. A trade school test revealed an aptitude for radio work and he is undertaking courses in radio that will probably prepare him for a radio operator or technician on the ship that he may serve. He has enlisted for six years.

Rosemarie Kibbie Added To Foley Beauty Staff

Government Aid Makes Possible Extensive Improvement

Arlington Heights high school, after waiting fifteen years, will have an athletic field next spring that will compare very favorably with any other field in the northeast or northwest conferences. Governmental agencies are providing $25,000 for the purpose. The work is to be installed under W.P.A. direction and will give regular employment to over twenty men throughout the winter.

Walter Kroeber, who was the sponsor's engineer for the Arlington Heights field house, and the recent high school addition, is the engineer in charge of the work. Richard Boeger is the superintendent.

Arlington Heights is about the last school of her size in this part of Illinois to develop an up-to-date athletic plant. For many years the track squad has been called the "trackless wonders" and the football team faced the dilemma of knowing that every time there was a rain, the center of the field would become a quagmire. No gym classes could be held on the field during damp weather.

Workmen are now engaged in leveling the field which requires the removal of many hundred yards of ground from the east side of the field. Excavation for a quarter mile cinder track will follow after the installation of drainage facilities. The center of the field will be combed-up and water will drain naturally to the sides. A cement curb will encircle the track, which has a 220 yard straightaway for use on long hurdle and sprint races.

A four foot fence will encircle the track, inside of which spectators will not be allowed. Bleechers seating 500 will be located west of the track. Special pits will be installed for high jump, discus, shot put, pole vault and the broad jump, and the track, itself, will not be used for such purposes.

Mr. Kroeber drew the present plans, after studying the lay-out of the field at Madison, Wis.. He made thorough study of needs at Arlington and consulted with A. M. Conger, John Grose, and other members of the high school faculty interested in sports. Provision is made for the future erection of a field house south of the bleechers. A cement walk will lead from the school house to the field entrance.

Space is provided south of the oval for a practice football field, soccer, soft ball, etc.

As far back as 1928 the school authorities of that time had drawn up plans for an up-to-date field. George Schneberger and Herman Garms were on the school board at that time and under their supervision, plans were made for a cinder rack, leveling and fencing the field, etc. The work progressed to partially leveling the field and fencing it. Then the depression caught up with them and funds were lacking to complete the work.

The field lay in this state for ten years when following the adoption of plans for the high school addition, the school board purchased an additional acre of land north of original school property in anticipation of the construction of an athletic field.

The completed athletic field will give to the high school a much better and more adequate plant, comparable to the best of the suburban high schools. With the completion of the gym which is one of the finest playing floors, and the athletic field, athletics and classes in physical education will no longer be under the handicap they have been in past years.

Ask Bids For New Well

State Gives O. K. But Asks Chlorination Present Water Supply

Mayor J. D. Flentie, accompanied by Alderman Geo. Schneberger and Attorney Hugo J. Thal went to Springfield last week to break the deadlock that was holding up the proposed new well for Arlington Heights. They returned home with the deadlock broken, but the O. K. of the state health department for award of a contract has a string tied to it that will mean additional expense for the village and the ultimate chlorination of all water taken from Niagara limestone.

The state health officials admitted that Arlington Heights water is free from impurities and is absolutely safe to drink, but they insist that the state wide rule regarding chlorination of all water supplies in the state be recognized and obeyed in Arlington Heights before the state board will give authority for the connection of the proposed well with existing water mains.

It seems that the state health department placed the blame for the many recent deaths at the state Manteno hospital to the fissures developing in the Niagara limestone from which the water supply for the hospital was obtained. That belief led to an order that hereafter all municipalities using water from that strata will be required to install chlorinator outfits. The order can not be enforced on old wells, but the state is withholding its O. K. on new wells unless the entire water supply, from both old and new wells, is given the treatment.

The only way that chlorination of Arlington Heights water can be avoided is to either give up all plans for a new well or to sink the proposed well 600 feet deeper, with a possibility of sulphur, and to case-off the Niagara strata. If the deep well is sunk and chlorinators are not installed on the old wells, the state would seal them off and the municipality would have to depend on the one source of supply.

Much as the village board dislikes the idea of chlorination, its members realize that the state has made it inevitable. Only a small quantity would be necessary and it is doubtful if water users will be able to detect the taste.

There will be no chlorination for the present and no equipment plans will be considered until after the new well is drilled and amount of the water supply is learned.

The village board held a special meeting Monday evening to pass the resolution authorizing the advertisement for bids, which appears on another page of this issue. The bids will be opened Dec. 16.

V. F. W. To Keep In Touch With Local Service Men

Assistance to the men of this vicinity who enter the military or naval services either voluntarily or as draftees, is the purpose of the roster to be compiled and maintained here by Arlington Post No. 981, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. The V. F. W. will also attempt to render aid and assistance to the dependent families of such men. Efforts will be made to keep in touch with the men themselves while they are in service, maintaining friendly contacts by means of letters, home newspapers and gifts.

The names and addresses of men in the service are being obtained from the local conscription board, nearby recruiting offices, relatives and all other available sources of accurate information, Commander Rizzi, Post No. 981, explained.

"The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States is supporting America's national defense program with 100 per cent cooperation," Commander Rizzi declared. "We have more than 3,500 local posts throughout the country. The members of each unit are co-operating in every possible way to speed up and facilitate every phase of the program. For many years the V. F. W. has urged the United States to develop and maintain an adequate national defense, of men, material and supplies. Now that our country is faced with the present emergency, the V. F. W. stands ready to render every practical assistance in its power."

The entire V. F. W. membership is made up of overseas veterans of American wars.

Henry Nichols Fights For C. Y. O. Crown At Coliseum

Henry Nichols, Jr. of Arlington, Heights, fought his way to the C. Y. O. finals Wednesday evening and will face Fred Dawson in the open class at the Coliseum next Wednesday evening. Entered in the 118 pound class, Nichols fulfilled the desires of his dad and his many Arlington fans by whipping all contestants thus far to give him the honor of boxing for the Championship. There's a trip out west to the champion and that's all the more reason why Nichols has no intention of failing in this last bout. Boxing will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Christmas Cheer Arrives

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Arlington Heights Trade and Civic association Monday evening, authorization was given for the placing of Christmas decorations throughout the business district. Wm. Luehring will supervise the erection of the colored lights and Christmas green about the ornamental street poles.

The association has made no recent drive for membership dues and needs funds to pay for the display of the Christmas spirit throughout the business district. The cooperation of all business firms in either payment of dues or outright donations will help the cause. Payment can be made at either the office of President J. D. Flentie, or at the office of Krause & Kehe.

Each succeeding year as funds permit, additions are made to the equipment used as decorations. Present plans call for the finest display of recent years.

Ready For Xmas Toys

Get your old toys ready. The gnomes of Arlington Heights have burnished up their workshop and are ready to administer first aid for those toys that are destined to gladden the hearts of little folks who would otherwise have a bare toy Christmas.

The repainting and repair of toys has become an annual project in Arlington Heights. Many of the toys that brought delight to your youngster last year can be rejuvenated in the gnome workshop and placed in Christmas baskets that will be distributed the day before Christmas.

Those who have toys that they desire to contribute to the cause are asked to call by phone either Mrs. Ira Parker, No. 751 or Mrs. Arthur Ashcraft, No. 366-W.

Religious Drama To Be Unfolded By Choir At Presbyterian Services

A special service at the First Presbyterian church this coming Sunday evening will feature a religious drama and music by the church choir. The drama, "Ordered South" by W. J. Noble, will be presented in three scenes by the young people of the church under the direction of Miss Mary Lou Cornick. The choral music will be under the direction of A. E. Johnson with Mrs. James Groves as accompanist.

In the play a young man desires to give his life for Christian service and his sweetheart doesn't want him to. In the complications and conflicts that arise the various motives and philosophies of human life are brought out. The parts are played by Bob Briggs, Lillian Fuhr, John Harth, Ray Boeger, Nicholas Mayer, Jr., and Ruth Koerber.

The anthems to be sung by the choir are: "A Rose of Sharon" by Schubert, and "The Lord's Prayer" by Forsyth-Kraft. There will also be a popular song service.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service of worship.

Another Expert Ready To Give Service At Winkelmann's Tire

Elroy Winkelman, of the Winkelman Tire and Battery Shop thinks that nothing is too good for his customers and spends time and money to better equip his shop and employees for correct servicing of cars brought to his shop. Few garages have a greater array or finer specialized equipment. Second to the equipment are the trained employees who operate it.

Mr. Winkelman frequently sends his men to trade schools, at his own expense who, return home equipped with specialized knowledge that enable them to do a better job for car owners.

Sam Ruskin is one of those employes. He has just returned from St. Louis where he spent four weeks at the Carter carburetor and motor tune-up school.

Way Back When—

Attorney Hugo J. Thal did not admit to the village board Monday night that it was an accident when he discovered an eleven year old unpaid special assessment bill of $90 against the village of Arlington Heights. "It had been on my books all these years," stated Mr. Thal, "but not presented because there were no available funds in the particular special assessment fund from which the money was forthcoming."

Mr. Thal's explanation was deemed sufficient by the board members and they authorized a voucher with interest.

Vehicle Tags On Sale at 25% Discount

New Traffic Lights Assured; School Board Asks For Old Ones

Arlington Heights vehicle and dog tags are on sale at a 25% discount, starting Friday. The full price will be charged after January 1. Authorization for the discount was given by the village board Monday evening. Wm. F. Meyer, assistant treasurer informed the board that he had received many applicants for the tags, and was only awaiting their arrival and the O. K. of the discount before accepting the applications. The discount last year amounted to $1,000 saving for vehicle owners. However the board considered the early sale of the tags is worth the thousand.

The board members were surprised to learn that non-residents frequently purchase the tags. Those who reside outside of a municipality and have no tag to purchase are stopped so often by the Chicago police, they are glad to spend the $3.00 to avoid the annoyance.

The 25% discount will also apply to dogs, which will be appreciated by their young masters, even if the dogs don't give a dog-gone. (They are gone if somebody does not pay it.)

Arlington Heights has talked a new traffic system of lights for the Northwest Highway for several years. It is to become a reality. While Mayor Flentie and Alderman Schneberger were in Springfield last week, they called on the highway department, which at first claimed to be unaware that Arlington had asked for a new system. After "hunting around" the desks a bit, the original request from Arlington, bearing the O. K. of the Chicago office, was unearthed and when definite plans are submitted, the state department will O. K. the installation and allot gas tax money to pay the bill.

The Arlington Heights school board recently passed a resolution asking that the old traffic lights be installed at the intersection of Euclid and State rd. and at Park ave. and State rd. as a safe guard for school children who are required to cross State rd.

With the mayor and one board member in Springfield and other board members a little forgetful, Mr. Fisher, of the Chicago Regional planning commission, who came out in his official capacity last Wednesday to confer with the zoning and appeal boards and the village trustees did not meet any of the aldermen who were a bit repentant Monday evening and authorized that an official invitation be again extended to Mr. Fisher.

The regular meeting of the board held November 18, devoted a lot of time talking over the proposed new well, which brought about the trip to Springfield and subsequent action which was taken at the special meeting this week.

Attorney Thal reported that he had checked over carefully the new contract for street lighting with the Public Service Co. and found it adequate and to the interest of the village. The finance committee reported that the November bill for street lighting, figured on the new reduced rate, brought a saving of over $80 to the municipality.

Stonegate Community club officially notified the board that the club and residents of that community favor a two way police radio.

Geo. Harris presented a report of the annual meeting of sewage treatment operators of Illinois, held at Springfield November 7-11. Mr. Harris stated that it was the best meeting of its kind he has ever attended and he received a lot of valuable information.

The street department was given authority to purchase 50 bags of calcium chloride for thawing streets this winter. A frame for the new truck for use with snow plow will cost $200.

A fifty-fifty settlement was made with the Scully Steel Co. for extra steel used in the warehouse addition to the village hall. The cost to the village is $150.

District Woman's Clubs Hold Bazaar and Fiesta

Public Offered Chance To Help Xmas Basket Fund

Arlington Heights Good Fellow campaign is again being launched to remember and bring Christmas cheer to those who Santa Claus forgets.

There are three ways in which anyone can help:

1. Phone Mrs. Pino, Public Health Nurse at 1387-J or Mr. Klehm, Wheeling Township Supervisor, Arlington 151, for the name and address of a deserving needy family. To this family you may take a Christmas basket and whatever you wish to contribute in the line of toys or candy.

2. By sending individual contributions to the basket fund. This money will be combined with a small balance on hand and will go to purchase Christmas baskets to be delivered to needy families. Individual contributions can be left at Krause & Kehe real estate, Flentie & Behrens real estate, or at the village treasurer's office in the village hall.

3. All civic and social organizations are invited to join in plan No. 3. Organizations are asked to appoint one member of their group to meet at a round table discussion at a date to be announced in a later issue of the Herald. Contributions will be gladly welcomed and combined with No. 2 for the purchase of baskets.

Each organization will be asked to furnish a list of needy families which will be indexed and carded to avoid duplications.

This is one of the worthiest of movements and regardless of other activities Arlington Heights people will not forget those who are less fortunate.

Veteran School Janitor Dies

Funeral services for Herman Tesch, Arlington Heights veteran school janitor, were held Monday. He had served as janitor of the Arlington Heights north side school 28 years, starting his services in 1907 and did not retire until 1935.

Mr. Tesch was always the friend of the school children. Those whom he saw enter the school during the earlier years, became parents and sent their own children to school confident that Herman Tesch would do his part in watching over the physical well being of the new generation. In his work he was ever conscientious, always willing to perform every duty assigned to him by the school board without complaint. He happily started the fires at four or five o'clock in the morning during the cold spells in order that the school rooms would be "'nice and warm," as he explained it.

He felt it was his duty to watch out for the little tots before school and during recess periods. He was admired by the small children about the school and the friend of the older pupils to whom his word was law. His willingness, optimism and agreeableness made him an aid to teachers and a pleasant fellow to have around.

Until shortly before his retirement, he had the sole responsibility for the janitor work of the two school buildings.

The funeral services were held November 25, at 2:30 p. m. in St. John Evangelical church. Funeral arrangements were by Lauterburg and Oehler. The Rev. R. J. Kalwitz administered the final rite.

The deceased was the son of William Tesch and Dorothea Guenther and was born in Wheeling township on December 25, 1867. He moved with his parents to Arlington Heights in 1886 where he has resided ever since. On October 25, 1894, he was united in holy matrimony to Miss Emma Kuhlmann.

Early this autumn he showed signs of failing health until it was necessary to remove him to the Sherman hospital in Elgin on October 21, where a few days later he submitted to surgery. He died on Friday afternoon, November 22. He was 72 years old.

The deceased is mourned by his wife, Mrs. Emma Tesch; one daughter, Mrs. Esther Heuer; one son, Elmer Tesch, who made his home with his parents; two grandchildren, Ruth and James Heuer; one son-in-law, Edwin Heuer; two brothers, William and John Tesch; one sister, Mrs. Edward Lackner, and a host of other relatives and friends.

The deceased was a charter member of St. John Evangelical church and his cheerful attitude and kind disposition will long be remembered.

Interment was in the St. John cemetery on East Euclid ave. near Arlington Heights.

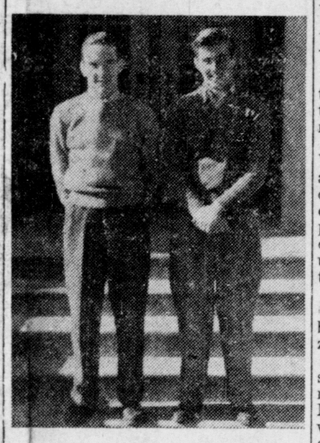
Co-Captains Elected For Cardinal Team



Harold Haugen and Bill Weber are the two boys elected by their teammates for the honorary captaincy of the Arlington football team. It would have been impossible to have chosen better. They were elected just before the Warren game and acquired these honors because of their contributions this season, not because of what they promised to do before the season opened.

Bill Weber was the right half back and Harold Haugen starred at guard. They were about the lightest pair in the heavyweight squad yet probably contributed more to the success of the team than any others on it.

Bill Weber will be long remembered for his brilliant twenty yard run in the closing moments of the Niles game to break up what appeared an imminent scoreless tie.

Harold (affectionately known as "H.H.") featured in the line play of the team all season. He was especially adept at breaking through on defense and smearing opponents play in their inception.

Basketball Town Teams To Play In Merle Guild Christmas Benefit Games

Merle Guild Post of the American Legion, Arlington Heights, is sponsoring an evening of two basketball games with the Arlington Racers and the Smith & Dawson teams, meeting opponents for the Christmas basket fund. The date has not been set but will be announced next week when the local teams have contracted with the other teams for the benefit game.

Arlington Racers are facing the Barrington town team in their weekly cage game next Tuesday evening at the Arlington township high school gymnasium. The local town team has piled up a reputable victory string even at such an early date in the basketball season. Francis Reuse, of Palatine, who was a member of the De Paul university team for four years, has joined the ranks of the Racers and will make them all the more formidable. The Barrington team is made up of college stars from five colleges including Knox and Carroll colleges.

SEEK CAGE PLAYERS

Smith & Dawson, developers of Prospect Heights, are again sponsoring a community basketball team this year and are inviting all cage players to come to the high school Thursday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock and try out for the team.

Furniture Needed

There is a family in Arlington Heights which was recently deprived of its household furniture by a fire. The unfortunate family has not asked for, nor have any donation parties been held for its benefit. However, there is great need for furniture of the following description:

Living room furniture.
Kitchen table and chairs.
Dishes and kitchen utensils.
Bed clothing, etc.

Any person who has articles of the above nature to supply are asked to call the relief office, phone Arlington Heights 151.

With receipt of above furniture, the family will be in a position to "start again" in living quarters of its own.

The L. L. L. of the St. Peter Lutheran church will have its regular monthly meeting this week Friday instead of next week. Mr. Ninneman of Des Plaines, member of the international board of directors and field secretary of the Northern Illinois district of the L. L. L., will bring an important message to the club members regarding the new method of financing the national Lutheran Hour. This matter is of vital importance and all members are therefore urged to be present and become acquainted with the new plan. A cordial greeting also awaits all visitors and prospective members. After the meeting and lecture there will be a game of competitive shuffle board.

Zoning Authority Advises Local Boards

Combined Boards Will Hasten New Zoning

The five members of the Arlington Heights board of appeals and two members of the zoning board met with Mr. Fisher of the Chicago Regional Planning commission last Wednesday and "talked over" ways and means to hasten the rezoning of Arlington Heights. The conference was asked by Henry Muller, president of the zoning board in order that there could be a clearer understanding of the duties of the two boards.

Mr. Fisher suggested that all five members of the appeal board be added to the membership of the zoning board which has direct charge of the rezoning work. The suggestion will be presented to the members of the village board by Mr. Muller next Monday evening with the recommendation that the change be made.

Under the present plans, a large map of the village is to be prepared on which will be designated the "occupancy" of each lot by means of colored pins, which will enable the zoning board to get a clearer picture of the status of the various sections of Arlington Heights regardless of present zoning. "Just because a vacant tract is today zoned for business is no reason why it should remain in that class when a change to residential will make possible the development of adjoining property and in fact raise the value of the property in question," stated Mr. Fisher.

He pointed out that property on the east side of south Evergreen street is undeveloped because State road is zoned for business. The FHA will not allow as high loans on residential property adjacent to business as on purely residential property.

Christmas Seal Funds Help To Protect Children From Disease

Mrs. J. M. Sommer, president of the parent-teacher association of the Arlington Heights public schools, remarked this week that she believed that mothers and teachers were pleased that children of school age appear on the 1940 Christmas Seal.

Schools realize their role in the health campaign of the nation and P.-T. A.'s are glad to foster the interest engendered in the classroom in healthful, hygienic living.

"The happy glowing faces on the Christmas Seal seem to say 'protect us from tuberculosis'," Mrs. Sommers added. "We can do our share by purchasing seals, knowing that the money we donate goes toward making our community a healthier place for our own children.

"Our children who know the value of preventitive medicine so much better than did our generation will be eager to respond to the appeal of these winsome children on the Christmas Seal."

Last year the Christmas Seal funds made possible the tuberculin testing of 74 per cent of the high school students — nearly all who consented to such test. Chest X-rays of all positive reactors and the services of a nurse to follow-up the testing project were all financed from the Christmas Seal funds.

Seals may be secured from the chairman of the sale, Mrs. John Allen or from Sieburg's drug store or by getting in touch with any of the schools in cases where a name has been missed in the mail sale.

New Athletic Field Started

Government Aid Makes Possible Extensive Improvement

Arlington Heights high school, after waiting fifteen years, will have an athletic field next spring that will compare very favorably with any other field in the northeast or northwest conferences. Governmental agencies are providing $25,000 for the purpose. The work is to be installed under W.P.A. direction and will give regular employment to over twenty men throughout the winter.

Walter Kroeber, who was the sponsor's engineer for the Arlington Heights field house, and the recent high school addition, is the engineer in charge of the work. Richard Boeger is the superintendent.

Arlington Heights is about the last school of her size in this part of Illinois to develop an up-to-date athletic plant. For many years the track squad has been called the "trackless wonders" and the football team faced the dilemma of knowing that every time there was a rain, the center of the field would become a quagmire. No gym classes could be held on the field during damp weather.

Workmen are now engaged in leveling the field which requires the removal of many hundred yards of ground from the east side of the field. Excavation for a quarter mile cinder track will follow after the installation of drainage facilities. The center of the field will be combed-up and water will drain naturally to the sides. A cement curb will encircle the track, which has a 220 yard straightaway for use on long hurdle and sprint races.

A four foot fence will encircle the track, inside of which spectators will not be allowed. Bleechers seating 500 will be located west of the track. Special pits will be installed for high jump, discus, shot put, pole vault and the broad jump, and the track, itself, will not be used for such purposes.

Mr. Kroeber drew the present plans, after studying the lay-out of the field at Madison, Wis.. He made thorough study of needs at Arlington and consulted with A. M. Conger, John Grose, and other members of the high school faculty interested in sports. Provision is made for the future erection of a field house south of the bleechers. A cement walk will lead from the school house to the field entrance.

Space is provided south of the oval for a practice football field, soccer, soft ball, etc.

As far back as 1928 the school authorities of that time had drawn up plans for an up-to-date field. George Schneberger and Herman Garms were on the school board at that time and under their supervision, plans were made for a cinder rack, leveling and fencing the field, etc. The work progressed to partially leveling the field and fencing it. Then the depression caught up with them and funds were lacking to complete the work.

The field lay in this state for ten years when following the adoption of plans for the high school addition, the school board purchased an additional acre of land north of original school property in anticipation of the construction of an athletic field.

The completed athletic field will give to the high school a much better and more adequate plant, comparable to the best of the suburban high schools. With the completion of the gym which is one of the finest playing floors, and the athletic field, athletics and classes in physical education will no longer be under the handicap they have been in past years.

Sunday marks the beginning of a new church year. This introductory season is known as Advent, a word meaning coming. It refers to the coming of Jesus unto human flesh on the first Christmas night. The function of the four advent weeks is to prepare Christian hearts for a spiritual observance of Christmas.

Advent will be observed by our church with four Sunday services and three mid-week (Wednesday evening) services. The Sunday morning devotions will emphasize the sermons of the pastor, while the Wednesday services will feature the singing of beloved Christmas carols and hymns. On Wednesday evening, November 13, the choirs directed by Mr. Bathje and Mr. Pruess will present a Christmas concert.

In these times the church and its efforts to bring about the salvation of mankind are strenuously censured, openly flayed, and thoughtfully or thoughtlessly criticized; yet the church remains the sole warrior giving battle to the foes of truth and justice and goodness, while the approach of calamity cautions and disarms the boldest critic. On every hand forces move to silence the voice of God in the pulpit, until every worshipper demands the abdication of principles that pulpit embodies. Then, when the weakened church submits, it is first lauded, then scurged, then scorned. You who read this are either in the church working to build up its power to withstand just such an onslaught, or are outside the church working by token of your lack of concern with the forces of darkness that seek to break down the last rampart of good men. God bless you if you now understand this need and accept the responsibility of matured men; God pity you if, reading this, you are cognizant of your kinship with evil and yet are unwilling to lose that affinity. It is only common sense to support a victorious cause, and who among you can say that God shall not be the victor. Let us unite in worship, for "His goodness faileth never."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Services were held in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Thanksgiving Day. The services included the reading of the Proclamation of the President of the United States, and a period devoted to testimonies of gratitude by members of the congregation. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon was "Thanksgiving."

The Golden Text was, 'Rejoice in the Lord, ye righteous; and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness" (Psalms 97:12).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: 'Praise ye the Lord, O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever" (Psalms 106:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We admit theoretically that God is good, omnipotent, omnipresent, infinite, and then we try to give information to this infinite Mind. We plead for unmerited pardon and for a liberal outpouring of benefactions. Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech" (p. 3).

More About The Price of Prescriptions

By C. W. Lussman
Of Sieburg Pharmacy

When you need the services of a physician nothing is farther from your mind than to shop around for one whose fees you THINK are low.

Then why shop around for a "low price" place to have his prescription filled? Even a bargain hunter does not want a bargain prescription.

The preservation or restoration of health is much too important to trust to anyone but a qualified and reputable doctor and druggist. With them conscientious service is their first consideration. Not how much profit can be made because you are unfortunate enough to be ill.

More About The Price of Prescriptions

By C. W. Lussman
Of Sieburg Pharmacy

When you need the services of a physician nothing is farther from your mind than to shop around for one whose fees you THINK are low.

Then why shop around for a "low price" place to have his prescription filled? Even a bargain hunter does not want a bargain prescription.

The preservation or restoration of health is much too important to trust to anyone but a qualified and reputable doctor and druggist. With them conscientious service is their first consideration. Not how much profit can be made because you are unfortunate enough to be ill.

Repeat Vows In Church On Thanksgiving

Mary McCormack Becomes Bride Of Richard H. Best

(From the Milwaukee Sentinel)

Playing her most important role, Miss Mary Barry McCormack of New York, whose career has included stage, screen and radio work, became the bride of Richard Halstead Best of New York Thursday, November 22 in the rectory of St. Bernard's Catholic church in Wauwatosa (Wis.) She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McCormack of Wauwatosa.

The former Milwaukeean chose to have a simple wedding with only her sister, Geneva, as her attendant and Mr. Best's brother, John S. Best of Milwaukee, was best man for the bridegroom. They are the sons of Dr. and Mrs. Bruce T. Best of Arlington Heights, who were here for the ceremony.

Following the ceremony at 11 o'clock a wedding breakfast was served at the Surf and from there the couple left for New York where they will occupy an apartment at 43 W. Seventieth st. The bride will continue her theatrical and radio work.

She chose her favorite color, palest blue, for her wedding gown and veil. The heavy slipper satin bodice of her gown was draped in Grecian style, topping a very full skirt of layers and layers of tulle. Ostrich tips tinted a delicate blue held her full waist length veil and in her hands she carried a shower of Briarcliffe and Mme. Finch roses. Her sister's gown was alpine rose taffeta, the bodice fitted and the skirt very full and the ostrich feathers that made her toque were tinted the color of her frock. Her hands were tucked into a small muff of Hollywood roses.

Mrs. McCormack saw her daughter's wedding in a Florentine green crepe gown trimmed with gold kidskin and her hat was an off the face, sheared beaver model accented with a topaz and rhinestone pin. Her flowers were Talisman roses. Mrs. Best, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in burgundy velvet with a matching hat and she wore gardenias pinned to her frock.

Low crystal bowls were filled with small white chrysanthemums with touches of pale blue and pink on the tables at the Surf where the wedding breakfast was held.

The bride graduated from Marquette university where she received her bachelor and master degrees in speech, and where she was a member of Omega Upsilon, national speech sorority. Mr. Best is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

He is employed by the International Vitamin Corporation of New York City.

Scarsdale Residents Enjoy Dinner Dance

Forty couples from the Scarsdale subdivision enjoyed a dinner dance at Rolling Green Country club on Saturday evening which was sponsored by the Property Owners Association of Scarsdale.

Sadie Hawkins 'Got Her Man'

About one hundred high school gals played the part of "Sadie Hawkins" Wednesday evening last week and "got themselves a man" for the Sadie Hawkins dance which was sponsored by the library club of the high school. The affair was a costume party, with all attending dressed in some character from the comic strip of "Lil Abner."

Many a Daisy Mae or Pansy called for their date, escorted them to the party, paid all expenses including supper out some place following the dance.

The cafeteria was decorated for the occasion with corn stalks and pumpkins, and soft red and blue lights played on the fanciful costumes. Madelyn McCoy was adjudged the best "take off" on Pansy and received first prize. Her blacked out front teeth and corncob pipe, gave realism to the character, her large straw hat was tied poke bonnet style and her shoes were of many colors. Her cotton frock was accented with long black mitts and all present agreed that she was the most impressive character from the comic strip. Bob Busse dressed as a typical "Lil Abner" with his over-all strap hanging, was judged the best dressed boy.

Paul and his "Men of Notes" furnished the music for dancing. The library club are to use the proceeds to purchase new books for the school library. Miss Keeler is sponsor of this club.

Wm. Schmitt Takes Elgin Bride To Altar

Miss Vida Awe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Awe, 412 Ann st., Elgin, and William A. Schmitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schmitt of Arlington Heights were married at St. John's Lutheran church, Elgin, by the Rev. A. H. Werfelmann at three o'clock Thursday, November 21. It was a candlelight ceremony, the couple standing in an autumn setting of vari-colored chrysanthemums arranged in baskets.

L. O. Schaefer, organist, played "Pomp and Circumstance," Elgar, while the bride's attendants preceded her to the altar, changing to the wedding march from "Lohengrin," with the entry of the bride on the arm of her father. Her gown of white brocaded satin damask was made with the currently popular sweetheart neckline, embellished at either side with a cluster of orange blossoms. Long puffed sleeves tapered to a narrow fitted wrist and the gored skirt extended into a long train. A tiara headdress of orange blossoms held the long veil and the shorter blush veil of illusion. Her shower bouquet consisted of white roses and babies'-breath.

The bride's choice of "something borrowed" and "something old" was a hand-made handkerchief which her aunt, Miss Mildred Awe, carried 35 years ago when she was a bridesmaid; her "something blue" was a bow worn in her hair, and her gold locket was her gift from the bridegroom.

Before the ceremony little Miss Lois Lindgren sang "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte, and while the couple knelt for the benediction, she sang "The Blessing." The white satin pillow on which they knelt was made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Stanley Buchness of Melrose Park. Throughout the ceremony Mr. Schaefer played softly, and as the wedding party left the church he played Mendelssohn's bridal chorus from "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Mrs. Wilbur Walters who served as matron of honor, wore a dress of mist blue satin sprinkled with stardust, and a ribbon headdress of blue. The three bridesmaids, Miss Naomi Webb of Elgin, Miss Ina Burrows of Marengo and Mrs. Jake Krause of Arlington Heights, a sister of the bridegroom, wore shell pink stardust satin with matching headdresses. Their dresses were fashioned alike with shirred bodices, full skirts and velvet bolero jackets, and all carried colonial bouquets of sweet peas and baby mums harmonizing with their frocks. Their cameo pins worn on velvet ribbons around their throats, were their gifts from the bride.

Miss Rosemarie Buchness of Melrose Park, nine-year-old cousin of the bride, filled the role of junior bridesmaid. Her full-skirted gown of blue taffeta, also made with shirred bodice and full skirt, was matched by her poke bonnet and she carried a small colonial bouquet. Her gift from the bride was a gold locket. Elmer Schmitt of Arlington Heights, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man, ushers including Alvin Awe, brother of the bride, Walter Meyers of Arlington Heights and Wilbur Walters.

Mrs. Awe's dress for her daughter's marriage was olive green crepe while Mrs. Schmitt wore soldier blue. Sweet peas composed their shoulder bouquets.

One hundred thirty relatives and friends attended the reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents where a buffet supper was served from a table appointed in pink and white and centered with the tiered wedding cake and miniature bridal party. Mrs. Herman Wenzel and daughters, Viola and Esther, and Miss Leone Webb assisted in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt left Thursday evening for a short trip, Mrs. Schmitt wearing a moss green dress with black accessories. They have recently furnished an apartment at 508 Hill st., Elgin, where they will make their home. He is employed by the Central Scientific Co. and handles New York Life insurance, and she is employed by the Joseph Spiess Co.

Repeat Vows In Church On Thanksgiving

Mary McCormack Becomes Bride Of Richard H. Best

(From the Milwaukee Sentinel)

Playing her most important role, Miss Mary Barry McCormack of New York, whose career has included stage, screen and radio work, became the bride of Richard Halstead Best of New York Thursday, November 22 in the rectory of St. Bernard's Catholic church in Wauwatosa (Wis.) She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McCormack of Wauwatosa.

The former Milwaukeean chose to have a simple wedding with only her sister, Geneva, as her attendant and Mr. Best's brother, John S. Best of Milwaukee, was best man for the bridegroom. They are the sons of Dr. and Mrs. Bruce T. Best of Arlington Heights, who were here for the ceremony.

Following the ceremony at 11 o'clock a wedding breakfast was served at the Surf and from there the couple left for New York where they will occupy an apartment at 43 W. Seventieth st. The bride will continue her theatrical and radio work.

She chose her favorite color, palest blue, for her wedding gown and veil. The heavy slipper satin bodice of her gown was draped in Grecian style, topping a very full skirt of layers and layers of tulle. Ostrich tips tinted a delicate blue held her full waist length veil and in her hands she carried a shower of Briarcliffe and Mme. Finch roses. Her sister's gown was alpine rose taffeta, the bodice fitted and the skirt very full and the ostrich feathers that made her toque were tinted the color of her frock. Her hands were tucked into a small muff of Hollywood roses.

Mrs. McCormack saw her daughter's wedding in a Florentine green crepe gown trimmed with gold kidskin and her hat was an off the face, sheared beaver model accented with a topaz and rhinestone pin. Her flowers were Talisman roses. Mrs. Best, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in burgundy velvet with a matching hat and she wore gardenias pinned to her frock.

Low crystal bowls were filled with small white chrysanthemums with touches of pale blue and pink on the tables at the Surf where the wedding breakfast was held.

The bride graduated from Marquette university where she received her bachelor and master degrees in speech, and where she was a member of Omega Upsilon, national speech sorority. Mr. Best is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

He is employed by the International Vitamin Corporation of New York City.

Scarsdale Residents Enjoy Dinner Dance

Forty couples from the Scarsdale subdivision enjoyed a dinner dance at Rolling Green Country club on Saturday evening which was sponsored by the Property Owners Association of Scarsdale.

Sadie Hawkins 'Got Her Man'

About one hundred high school gals played the part of "Sadie Hawkins" Wednesday evening last week and "got themselves a man" for the Sadie Hawkins dance which was sponsored by the library club of the high school. The affair was a costume party, with all attending dressed in some character from the comic strip of "Lil Abner."

Many a Daisy Mae or Pansy called for their date, escorted them to the party, paid all expenses including supper out some place following the dance.

The cafeteria was decorated for the occasion with corn stalks and pumpkins, and soft red and blue lights played on the fanciful costumes. Madelyn McCoy was adjudged the best "take off" on Pansy and received first prize. Her blacked out front teeth and corncob pipe, gave realism to the character, her large straw hat was tied poke bonnet style and her shoes were of many colors. Her cotton frock was accented with long black mitts and all present agreed that she was the most impressive character from the comic strip. Bob Busse dressed as a typical "Lil Abner" with his over-all strap hanging, was judged the best dressed boy.

Paul and his "Men of Notes" furnished the music for dancing. The library club are to use the proceeds to purchase new books for the school library. Miss Keeler is sponsor of this club.

Large Reception Follows Quiet Home Ceremony

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Weber, 738 North Pine Ave., Arlington Heights, was the scene of a pretty home wedding at five-thirty Saturday evening, November 23, when their daughter, Virginia May, became the bride of Mr. Chas. Fenner, Jr., of Chicago. Only the immediate families witnessed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white moire silk with finger tip veil. A bouquet of orchids completed her costume. Her attendants were Miss Miriam Noyes and Miss Bessie Allen. The former was attired in a gown of cornflower blue with raisin color chrysanthemums, while the latter wore a raisin color gown with blue chrysanthemums. The gowns of all three were in princess style with large puff sleeves.

Harold Fenner served his brother as best man. William Weber, brother of the bride, was the other attendant. Rev. H. A. Kossack tied the nuptial knot.

Following the ceremony the wedding party went to Simson's on Euclid and Rand for a turkey wedding dinner.

A reception, starting at nine o'clock at the same place was attended by 150 guests. The evening was spent dancing with a supper at midnight.

Mrs. Fenner has resided in Arlington Heights all of her life and is a prominent member of the younger set and active in the Junior Woman's Club.

She was the guest of honor at two pre-nuptial showers.

Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Johnson and son spent Thanksgiving day with Mrs. Caroline Emmett of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. French and family of Round Lake and Miss Keeley, were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oris B. Cunningham. Richard French stayed to enjoy the week-end with the Cunningham boys.

Mt. Prospect Bank Mails $13,800 In Christmas Saving Checks

Carl Hammerl, cashier of the Mt. Prospect State Bank announces that $13,804.95 in Christmas Savings checks were mailed this week. This is an increase over the previous year of $5,286.04 and an increase over 1938 of over $11,000.00.

This indicates that Christmas savings idea has again "caught on" after a number of years in which it was abandoned. The amount paid in this year was 62% higher than the year previous, which was in itself 240% higher than the 1938 club.

The new clubs are again being opened and from advance reports the year 1941 should be bigger and better than ever.

Calvin Mitchell Still Awaits Answer

Calvin Mitchell, Arlington Heights resident, has some ideas of his own regarding the monetary system of this government and has frequently asked "questions" thru the press and by letter addressed to governmental officials. He received his first reply to one of his questions a month ago. It came from the Chicago Times and is not very satisfactory to Mr. Mitchell who says that he is going to keep on asking the questions until Uncle Sam does something about it.

Mr. Mitchell says, "my experience proves that candidates and editors do not dare to answer my questions. They seem to fear the loss of their retainer fees and slush money. In this money grabbing world, there may be extenuating conditions that ease their conscience, but nevertheless they commit a crime against humanity and successful Democratic government. It is an outrage to ignore the question, "What shall our money system be? Something is very wrong."

The letter from the Chicago Times in part is as follows:

Dear Mr. Mitchell:

In checking records on the banking and monetary bill you have reference to, this department found that a committee has been set up to make this study under Senate Resolution 125. The $25,000 appropriation for the investigation was increased to $100,000 on August 4, 1939, when the amended resolution was adopted.

The study is being conducted by the Committee on Banking and Currency, under the chairmanship of Sen. Robert F. Wagner. To date there have been no reports from the committee.

Mr. Mitchell replys, "why give a committee of Congress $100,000 to propose legislation? That is what they are paid $20,000 a year to do."

It is 40 years since I discovered that it was necessary to kowtow to the Boss and support wrongs to win preferment in politics, or kick and work for justice.

I have been kicking. C. M.

Don't Fail To See 'The Girl Who Forgot'

These are the confident words of the Senior Walther League of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, which will present the play in the school hall, Friday and Sunday, December 6 and 8 at 8:00 p. m.

The cast is made up of local talent, including Ruth Schwolow, Ruth Gehrs, Lorraine Schoenbeck, Arlene Nagel, Esther Wolf, Norman Winicke, Herbert Heineman, Ray Gosch, Alfred Remus and Kurt Meyer.

Free Educational Movies Offered Clubs, Societies

Free educational moving pictures presented in a three-fold program with 45 subjects to choose from, are now made available to Arlington Heights home, school, church and club groups through the courtesy of the Washington Laundry, 700 Washington st., Evanston.

Community and social organizations are given the privilege of choosing two movies (from a list of 45 titles) to be shown in conjunction with the new talking picture "Fit For A King." The latter portrays the remarkable progress made by the modern laundry over a period of half a century.

The selective title list includes three divisions: (1) Educational and travel pictures filmed in all continents of the world; (2) world news and sports presented in panorama; (3) comedies and cartoons.

Representatives of organizations wishing to book the films are asked to contact Mr. G. W. Fraser at the laundry offices, by phone or by mail, at least two weeks in advance of presentation date. Call Enterprise 4900 (no toll).

The laundry's newly air-conditioned plant is furnished with the latest and most modern equipment to safeguard delicate clothes and fabrics. Rain soft water and specially prepared soap are used in the washing processes, the management states.

During the World's Fair, the Washington Laundry was chosen out of 346 other laundries to demonstrate the industry itself. The firm, established in 1887, has been under the same management for three generations. The personnel department, which uses great care in selecting workers, states that the average length of service of employes throughout the plant and offices is eight and one-half years.

The management reports a steadily increasing demand for its services in this territory.

Railroad Company Seeks To Caution Public On Crossing Tracks

Chicago and Northwestern railroad last week appealed to the civic clubs and schools for their cooperation in stemming the rising tide of traffic fatalities and injuries at railroad crossings. This alarming increase is causing much concern among railroad officials and it is earnestly believed, not only by the railroads but by the National Safety Council and the Safety Section of the Association of American railroads, that hundreds of human lives could be saved annually if motorists would only use greater caution at grade crossings. The railroad company stated:

Gentlemen:

"Report recently received from the Bureau of Statistics of the Interstate Commerce Commission shows that during the first eight months of this year 1,113 persons lost their lives and 2,667 were injured in highway-railroad grade crossing accidents. This was the greatest number of fatalities for any corresponding period since 1931, with the exception of 1937 when there were 1,144 fatalities. The number of persons injured in the same period for 1940 was greater than for any corresponding period since 1937, when there were 3,090 injuries.

"Surveys made by the safety officials shows that the greater proportion of grade crossing accidents involve motorists who are familiar with local grade crossings and who use these crossings frequently, rather than motorists who perhaps pass through that locality for the first time."

Yours very truly,
Chicago and Northwestern Railway
P. G. Campbell, Supt.

American Family Life Attacked By Subversive Elements, Says Maier

The "modern revolt against marriage morals" was described by Dr. Walter A. Maier of Concordia Seminary, in his coast-to-coast Lutheran Hour broadcast Sunday as "an unmistakable sign pointing to the decay of western civilization." The noted theologian, now heard each Sunday over 235 stations, said the breakdown of family life was an important cause of the collapse of France.

Asserting that promoters of "a new pagan program of free love," the publishers of erotic literature, radical teachers, Communist activities and other movements are boldly attacking American family life, Dr. Maier called for united opposition by the nation's Christian forces.

Dr. Maier condemned the suggestion of a prominent obstretrician who recently proposed that a mother of eight children be sterilized, pointing out that the universal application of such a limitation would have denied the existence of many prominent world figures. He pointed out that Grover Cleveland had 8 brothers and sisters, Webster and Carlyle each 9, Lord Nelson and Irving, 10; Samuel Adams, Walter Scott and James Fenimore Cooper, each 11; Franz Shubert, 13; John Marshall, 14; Benjamin Franklin, 16, and Caruso, 18.

The churches should intensify their programs of religious education for the child, Dr. Maier declared, and should train young people in questions of marriage and home life.

Mistakes R. R. Crossing For Highway; Delays Train; Trial Saturday

Harvey Docka of Barrington mistook the railroad platform at Bothwell st. for a highway Mondy afternoon and drove on to the platform with two wheels while the other two remained on the track.

An eastbound train was coming and luckily it was a local which stopped at the station. The train was delayed for some time while the car was being removed from the tracks.

Docka admitted having a few "shots" and was driving without a drivers' license.

He formerly worked as traffic man for the county highway police. His trial is set for Saturday afternoon.

Palatine Autoist Hits and Runs; Pursued, Lands In Jail

Gustave Brodhage, who lives south of Palatine, while walking south on Plum Grove ave. Tuesday night, was struck by a car driven by Harry Koba.

Norman Beckman was driving north and saw the accident and noted that the driver of the car which hit Brodhage did not stop.

Mr. Beckman pursued the car and found that Harry Koba was the driver.

Brodhage sustained a sprained ankle and a bruised shoulder.

Koba is in the Palatine jail charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Brodhage was walking on the same side of the road as the south bound car.

Koba has been in trouble many times and had been drinking previous to the accident.

ARLINGTON WOMAN CELEBRATES 66TH BIRTHDAY

Sunday was a happy day for Mrs. Emil Erber when her children and grandchildren came home to help her celebrate her 66th birthday. A pot luck supper was served at 6 o'clock and a large birthday cake was brought to the table as the grandchildren sang "Happy Birthday." Mrs. Erber received many beautiful gifts and cards.

Other guests to make the occasion a happy one were Mrs. Erber's sister and brother-in-law from Gladstone Park, Mrs. Hilda Gash, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Krause, also her sister-in-law and niece from Elgin, Mrs. Paul Splitzer and Mrs. Eunice Starr and children. The evening was spent by playing cards and brought to a close with a light lunch at midnight.

Mt. Prospect Bank Mails $13,800 In Christmas Saving Checks

Carl Hammerl, cashier of the Mt. Prospect State Bank announces that $13,804.95 in Christmas Savings checks were mailed this week. This is an increase over the previous year of $5,286.04 and an increase over 1938 of over $11,000.00.

This indicates that Christmas savings idea has again "caught on" after a number of years in which it was abandoned. The amount paid in this year was 62% higher than the year previous, which was in itself 240% higher than the 1938 club.

The new clubs are again being opened and from advance reports the year 1941 should be bigger and better than ever.

Calvin Mitchell Still Awaits Answer

Calvin Mitchell, Arlington Heights resident, has some ideas of his own regarding the monetary system of this government and has frequently asked "questions" thru the press and by letter addressed to governmental officials. He received his first reply to one of his questions a month ago. It came from the Chicago Times and is not very satisfactory to Mr. Mitchell who says that he is going to keep on asking the questions until Uncle Sam does something about it.

Mr. Mitchell says, "my experience proves that candidates and editors do not dare to answer my questions. They seem to fear the loss of their retainer fees and slush money. In this money grabbing world, there may be extenuating conditions that ease their conscience, but nevertheless they commit a crime against humanity and successful Democratic government. It is an outrage to ignore the question, "What shall our money system be? Something is very wrong."

The letter from the Chicago Times in part is as follows:

Dear Mr. Mitchell:

In checking records on the banking and monetary bill you have reference to, this department found that a committee has been set up to make this study under Senate Resolution 125. The $25,000 appropriation for the investigation was increased to $100,000 on August 4, 1939, when the amended resolution was adopted.

The study is being conducted by the Committee on Banking and Currency, under the chairmanship of Sen. Robert F. Wagner. To date there have been no reports from the committee.

Mr. Mitchell replys, "why give a committee of Congress $100,000 to propose legislation? That is what they are paid $20,000 a year to do."

It is 40 years since I discovered that it was necessary to kowtow to the Boss and support wrongs to win preferment in politics, or kick and work for justice.

I have been kicking. C. M.

Don't Fail To See 'The Girl Who Forgot'

This three-act play will give you a grand evening of laughs, thrills, and exciting moments, so you won't want to neglect seeing it." These are the confident words of the Senior Walther League of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, which will present the play in the school hall, Friday and Sunday, December 6 and 8 at 8:00 p. m.

The cast is made up of local talent, including Ruth Schwolow, Ruth Gehrs, Lorraine Schoenbeck, Arlene Nagel, Esther Wolf, Norman Winicke, Herbert Heineman, Ray Gosch, Alfred Remus and Kurt Meyer.

Free Educational Movies Offered Clubs, Societies

Free educational moving pictures presented in a three-fold program with 45 subjects to choose from, are now made available to Arlington Heights home, school, church and club groups through the courtesy of the Washington Laundry, 700 Washington st., Evanston.

Community and social organizations are given the privilege of choosing two movies (from a list of 45 titles) to be shown in conjunction with the new talking picture "Fit For A King." The latter portrays the remarkable progress made by the modern laundry over a period of half a century.

The selective title list includes three divisions: (1) Educational and travel pictures filmed in all continents of the world; (2) world news and sports presented in panorama; (3) comedies and cartoons.

Representatives of organizations wishing to book the films are asked to contact Mr. G. W. Fraser at the laundry offices, by phone or by mail, at least two weeks in advance of presentation date. Call Enterprise 4900 (no toll).

The laundry's newly air-conditioned plant is furnished with the latest and most modern equipment to safeguard delicate clothes and fabrics. Rain soft water and specially prepared soap are used in the washing processes, the management states.

During the World's Fair, the Washington Laundry was chosen out of 346 other laundries to demonstrate the industry itself. The firm, established in 1887, has been under the same management for three generations. The personnel department, which uses great care in selecting workers, states that the average length of service of employes throughout the plant and offices is eight and one-half years.

The management reports a steadily increasing demand for its services in this territory.

Railroad Company Seeks To Caution Public On Crossing Tracks

Chicago and Northwestern railroad last week appealed to the civic clubs and schools for their cooperation in stemming the rising tide of traffic fatalities and injuries at railroad crossings. This alarming increase is causing much concern among railroad officials and it is earnestly believed, not only by the railroads but by the National Safety Council and the Safety Section of the Association of American railroads, that hundreds of human lives could be saved annually if motorists would only use greater caution at grade crossings. The railroad company stated: Gentlemen:

"Report recently received from the Bureau of Statistics of the Interstate Commerce Commission shows that during the first eight months of this year 1,113 persons lost their lives and 2,667 were injured in highway-railroad grade crossing accidents. This was the greatest number of fatalities for any corresponding period since 1931, with the exception of 1937 when there were 1,144 fatalities. The number of persons injured in the same period for 1940 was greater than for any corresponding period since 1937, when there were 3,090 injuries.

"Surveys made by the safety officials shows that the greater proportion of grade crossing accidents involve motorists who are familiar with local grade crossings and who use these crossings frequently, rather than motorists who perhaps pass through that locality for the first time."

Yours very truly,
Chicago and Northwestern Railway
P. G. Campbell, Supt.

American Family Life Attacked By Subversive Elements, Says Maier

The "modern revolt against marriage morals" was described by Dr. Walter A. Maier of Concordia Seminary, in his coast-to-coast Lutheran Hour broadcast Sunday as "an unmistakable sign pointing to the decay of western civilization." The noted theologian, now heard each Sunday over 235 stations, said the breakdown of family life was an important cause of the collapse of France.

Asserting that promoters of "a new pagan program of free love," the publishers of erotic literature, radical teachers, Communist activities and other movements are boldly attacking American family life, Dr. Maier called for united opposition by the nation's Christian forces.

Dr. Maier condemned the suggestion of a prominent obstretrician who recently proposed that a mother of eight children be sterilized, pointing out that the universal application of such a limitation would have denied the existence of many prominent world figures. He pointed out that Grover Cleveland had 8 brothers and sisters, Webster and Carlyle each 9, Lord Nelson and Irving, 10; Samuel Adams, Walter Scott and James Fenimore Cooper, each 11; Franz Shubert, 13; John Marshall, 14; Benjamin Franklin, 16, and Caruso, 18.

The churches should intensify their programs of religious education for the child, Dr. Maier declared, and should train young people in questions of marriage and home life.

Scout Council Dinner To Be Held Dec. 12 At St. Mary's Church

The business session of the council, which in former years has been held immediately prior to the annual dinner will be held instead Monday evening, December 2, at the American Legion home in Des Plaines.

Everyone interested in scouting is cordially invited to attend this annual dinner which will be an inspiration to all and tickets may be secured from any scoutmaster or cubmaster.

Mistakes R. R. Crossing For Highway; Delays Train; Trial Saturday

Harvey Docka of Barrington mistook the railroad platform at Bothwell st. for a highway Mondy afternoon and drove on to the platform with two wheels while the other two remained on the track.

An eastbound train was coming and luckily it was a local which stopped at the station. The train was delayed for some time while the car was being removed from the tracks.

Docka admitted having a few "shots" and was driving without a drivers' license.

He formerly worked as traffic man for the county highway police. His trial is set for Saturday afternoon.

Palatine Autoist Hits and Runs; Pursued, Lands In Jail

Gustave Brodhage, who lives south of Palatine, while walking south on Plum Grove ave. Tuesday night, was struck by a car driven by Harry Koba.

Norman Beckman was driving north and saw the accident and noted that the driver of the car which hit Brodhage did not stop.

Mr. Beckman pursued the car and found that Harry Koba was the driver.

Brodhage sustained a sprained ankle and a bruised shoulder.

Koba is in the Palatine jail charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Brodhage was walking on the same side of the road as the south bound car.

Koba has been in trouble many times and had been drinking previous to the accident.

Rust of Troop 21, Barrington, and Kenneth Griess of Troop 2, Park Ridge, will be presented with the Eagle Badges at the Council-wide court of honor of the Northwest Suburban Council to be held Friday evening, at 8:00 o'clock at the Des Plaines Junior high school.

This will make a total of 16 Eagle awards presented this year which is the largest number in any one year in the history of the Council and shows an increased interest on the part of the older scouts to maintain their active service and advance to the highest rank in scouting.

Awards for second class, first class, star, life and eagle palm awards and merit badges will also be presented to scouts from the various troops of the council.

Scoutmaster Randolph Brooks of Troop 31 Skokie will serve as chairman of the court of honor and an interesting and impressive program will be presented.

News Of Prospect Heights

Saturday evening, November 16, the Chas. Ledyard's entertained Mr. and Mrs. L. Lederer and Mr. and Mrs. L. Holz, the occasion being Mr. Ledyard's birthday, so congratulations Chick, better late than never.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. R. Ulrich and Mr. and Mrs. R. Savodny and daughter, Barbara, were dinner guests at the Ledyard home and the Ledyard's enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mrs. Ledyard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ulrich and later had supper at the home of the L. Holz's. On Saturday Chick and Ruth attended a sixth wedding anniversary party for their friends, the Roy Peters, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lamb have a beautiful new Ford and took advantage of our ideal Thanksgiving and week-end weather and made a jaunt down to Crawfordsville, Iowa, to visit Mrs. Lamb's father, Mr. Hagie. The folks enjoyed their holiday even though Iowa didn't have their Thanksgiving until this week. We wish the Lamb's a lot of good luck with their new car.

Mr. Cloice Weider, township commissioner, informs us that Hillside ave. and Olive st. are to be made wider and regraveled. This is good news to the folks who use these streets. Mr. Weider has an extensive program planned for reconditioning our roads so perhaps by spring we shall be able to call all of our streets boulevards.

We welcome Mrs. Van Den Berg and her son to the community. They moved into 302 Olive st., and we hope they enjoy their new home.

Mr. Carleton Smith informs us that work has started on the Park site, and if the weather permits, quite a bit shall be accomplished before spring. This indeed will be another reason why Prospect Heights is a grand place to live.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuett are the folks who have moved into the new home at the corners of Willow and Elmhurst rds. We hope they will enjoy their home and the community as much as the rest of us have.

Mrs. Marion Bair of the Smith & Dawson Chicago office has left the employ of the company to enjoy just being a home maker for a change as she would put it. Well it was nice knowing you Marion and we suppose we'll see you now and then out in Prospect Heights.

The William Weichlein home on Olive st., has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gardiner, daughter and son-in-law of the Vincent I. Shepherd's of Elmhurst rd. The young folks expect to make residence as soon as possible. Mr. Weichlein has been transferred by his company and we are sorry to see Mr. and Mrs. Weichlein leave, but wish them the best of luck wherever they go.

It isn't very often that we have the pleasure of announcing an engagement in the community, but this one is too good to keep. Miss Mildred Bartlett, of Elmhurst ave., has become engaged to Chas. Williams of Claredon ave., better known by the name of Chuckie Williams and driver of the Smith & Dawson truck. Chuckie and Mildred's many friends in the community join me in well wishes for their happiness.

The tickets of which all receipts go into the P.-T. A. treasury will be sold for 35c. Reservations will be necessary and you may invite your friends and bring the children, but all reservations must be made not later than Dec. 6, 1940, as Mrs. R. C. Bolt is trying to get a reduced rate of train fare and will also have a figure on how many cars will be necessary to take us to the station. For a very enjoyable afternoon, call Mrs. Roy C. Bolt, 7074-R for your reservations.

Sunday the Roy A. Hartke's and the Roy Bolt families enjoyed a day out in the country. The children had a grand time romping around while the papas were busy digging shrubbery. Aliens Must Register By December 26

Alien registration will end December 26 and all non-citizens who have not yet registered are warned that severe penalties will follow failure to comply with this Federal law.

All aliens, 14 years of age and older, must register in person and be fingerprinted.

Alien children, under 14, must be registered by their parents or guardians.

Registration takes place at the post offices.

There is no charge of any kind connected with alien registration.

The Department of Justice warns aliens to beware of racketeers.

The Post Office department and the Department of Justice will willingly assist the alien in every possible way.

Earl G. Harrison, Director of Alien Registration of the department, suggests that those aliens who have not yet registered do so as soon as possible and avoid the Christmas rush at the post offices.

All aliens are also warned that, having registered, they are required to report any change in their permanent residence address within five days to the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice in Washington. Forms for this purpose are obtainable at all post offices.

No aliens need be unprepared for the questions he will be asked. Sample registration forms which show him exactly what information he will need at registration are available in all post offices.

News Of Prospect Heights

Saturday evening, November 16, the Chas. Ledyard's entertained Mr. and Mrs. L. Lederer and Mr. and Mrs. L. Holz, the occasion being Mr. Ledyard's birthday, so congratulations Chick, better late than never.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. R. Ulrich and Mr. and Mrs. R. Savodny and daughter, Barbara, were dinner guests at the Ledyard home and the Ledyard's enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mrs. Ledyard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ulrich and later had supper at the home of the L. Holz's. On Saturday Chick and Ruth attended a sixth wedding anniversary party for their friends, the Roy Peters, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lamb have a beautiful new Ford and took advantage of our ideal Thanksgiving and week-end weather and made a jaunt down to Crawfordsville, Iowa, to visit Mrs. Lamb's father, Mr. Hagie. The folks enjoyed their holiday even though Iowa didn't have their Thanksgiving until this week. We wish the Lamb's a lot of good luck with their new car.

Mr. Cloice Weider, township commissioner, informs us that Hillside ave. and Olive st. are to be made wider and regraveled. This is good news to the folks who use these streets. Mr. Weider has an extensive program planned for reconditioning our roads so perhaps by spring we shall be able to call all of our streets boulevards.

We welcome Mrs. Van Den Berg and her son to the community. They moved into 302 Olive st., and we hope they enjoy their new home.

Mr. Carleton Smith informs us that work has started on the Park site, and if the weather permits, quite a bit shall be accomplished before spring. This indeed will be another reason why Prospect Heights is a grand place to live.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuett are the folks who have moved into the new home at the corners of Willow and Elmhurst rds. We hope they will enjoy their home and the community as much as the rest of us have.

Mrs. Marion Bair of the Smith & Dawson Chicago office has left the employ of the company to enjoy just being a home maker for a change as she would put it. Well it was nice knowing you Marion and we suppose we'll see you now and then out in Prospect Heights.

The William Weichlein home on Olive st., has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gardiner, daughter and son-in-law of the Vincent I. Shepherd's of Elmhurst rd. The young folks expect to make residence as soon as possible. Mr. Weichlein has been transferred by his company and we are sorry to see Mr. and Mrs. Weichlein leave, but wish them the best of luck wherever they go.

It isn't very often that we have the pleasure of announcing an engagement in the community, but this one is too good to keep. Miss Mildred Bartlett, of Elmhurst ave., has become engaged to Chas. Williams of Claredon ave., better known by the name of Chuckie Williams and driver of the Smith & Dawson truck. Chuckie and Mildred's many friends in the community join me in well wishes for their happiness.

The children of the Wheeling Center school gave a Thanksgiving program for their parents Wednesday afternoon, under the tutelage of their teachers. The parents who attended enjoyed the program very much and of course the children performed like veterans.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Bell, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Robertson, Jr. and families for Thanksgiving dinner and what's this we hear, Emma won the turkey?

Mr. and Mrs. M. Palm and son Andy enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. Palm's sisters, the Misses Palm of Evanston, Illinois.

Last week-end Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Buerher and Mr. Erwin Buerher, of Chicago, and brother of Mr. Geo. Buerher, drove down to Wauseon, Ohio, to visit the Senior Buerher's. They report a grand time as it was corn-husking time down on the farm.

Mrs. Peters, mother of Mrs. Roy C. Bolt enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner with the Bolt family.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Buerher, and son enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the Geo. Buerher home.

The Wheeling Center P.-T. A. is sponsoring a tour of the Women's division of the Electrical Institute, on the 36th floor of the Civic opera building at 2:00 o'clock, December 10, 1940. The program will consist of a play by the young ladies of the Electrical Association, demonstrations on how to decorate your home inside and out for the Christmas holidays, and a short movie along the same lines followed by tea in the highest dining room in Chicago. The tickets of which all receipts go into the P.-T. A. treasury will be sold for 35c. Reservations will be necessary and you may invite your friends and bring the children, but all reservations must be made not later than Dec. 6, 1940, as Mrs. R. C. Bolt is trying to get a reduced rate of train fare and will also have a figure on how many cars will be necessary to take us to the station. For a very enjoyable afternoon, call Mrs. Roy C. Bolt, 7074-R for your reservations.

Sunday the Roy A. Hartke's and the Roy Bolt families enjoyed a day out in the country. The children had a grand time romping around while the papas were busy digging shrubbery. The hot coffee and sandwiches tasted especially good outdoors and the brisk wind only whetted the appetites. Later the two families had supper at the Hartke home.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bolt entertained the Edw. Dresselhuy's of Marion avenue.

Mrs. Marion Shepherd has been confined to her home on account of a very bad cold. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schneider, of Chicago, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nielsen. Thanksgiving day Jim and Anne Nielsen enjoyed their turkey dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Maxwell in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Torreyson entertained Miss Kandace Haley of Delta, Ohio. Miss Haley stayed over Thanksgiving day with Mrs. Patterson, while the Torreyson family drove down to Genesoe, Ill., where they visited with Mr. Torreyson's two brothers. They also visited with Mrs. Torreyson, Sr., and Homer's sister at Davenport, Iowa. The folks returned Sunday evening after a very enjoyable Thanksgiving holiday. Miss Haley returned to her home on Monday having enjoyed a very pleasant visit.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Shepherd drove down to Marengo, Ill.

Searching for Tuberculosis Among School Children

Doctor observing results of tuberculin skin test on child's arm. Tuberculosis associations, which are supported by income from Christmas Seals, conduct such tests among school children, college students and industrial workers.

It Happened Here

The grandmother down the street is a Swiss; she gardens in season, rakes leaves and burns them and hustles about in the cold despite her eighty years and more, her grey hair wisping about her face and her calico dress guiltless of coat or sweater. "If I die, I die—while I live, I go about as I please." She brot over roots from her flowering bush and forestalled thanks. "Never thank any one for flowers the heart knows; it is bad luck to thank for them. Emma says don't rake the leaves when the neighbors don't; sure, it's hard work and I'm old but if I die, I die, but I do as I please while I live." We wonder if a doughty little Republic across the water would be surprised at her . . . Wind and ice didn't daunt the birds but changes in their familiars did; the bird bath was only a pedestal, marking a known drinking place, and bewildered sparrows circled it until the cardinal came, lit on the pedestal and registered the surprise you might feel if your drinking glass proved to be only a stem. A cardinal on a pedestal on a bitter day of ice is a touch every garden should have. The blackbirds came by twos and threes and there was acrimonious comment on the failure of the plumbong. When warm water was put out, the squirrel got his drink before the water froze; after that, he simply sat in the bowl and licked the ice; when he left the bluejay lit on the edge of the bowl and chipped the ice vigorously, eating the bits like grain.

The little two-year old was lost—
Ring the bell, ring the bell!
Sisters searched everywhere
Rushing pell-mell,
But no baby was found,
Not even a shoe,
So the neighbors all searched
With great hullabaloo!
Then Mother came home,
Went straight to the bed
And there in her nest was the
Dear sleepy head.

S'Amuser.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

MERLE GUILD POST NO. 208

Merle Guild Post No. 208 held a regular meeting at the Legion House, Tuesday, November 26.

Tuesday evening, December 3, the Post members and the Junior Drum and Bugle Corps will pay a visit to the Prospect Heights school and will present a United States Flag to the Campfire Girls of Prospect Heights.

In the near future the Post will sponsor a double header basketball game at the high school for the benefit of the Community Christmast Basket fund. Two local teams the Arlington Racers and the Smith and Dawson team will play opposing teams which will be selected by them. Good games are assured and it is hoped that the public will patronize this event in the same spirit displayed at the benefit game which was sponsored in December, 1939. All receipts will be turned over to the Community Christmas Basket committee for their use in providing baskets for the needy at Christmas time. Due notice will be given of the date for this event.

Herman H. Baumann reported that the drive for Boy Scout funds was progressing in a very gratifying manner and that the response of the citizens of our village to the solicitation for funds indicated a marked increase in the interest of the public in the Scout movement.

The next meeting of the Post will be held Wednesday evening, December 18, at which time a group of volunteers on the next draft list will be invited as guests of the Post and, if possible, the first two volunteers, already enlisted in the service of their country, will be invited to the meeting.

Victor A. Pecchia is now confined to the Edward Hines hospital for observation and treatment and his comrades and a host of friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

A ceremony for the disposition of an unserviceable United States Flag was exemplified by the Post Color Guard and Post officers.

Comrades remember the date of the next Post meeting, December 18. Visiting Comrades are always welcome.

Searching for Tuberculosis Among School Children

Doctor observing results of tuberculin skin test on child's arm. Tuberculosis associations, which are supported by income from Christmas Seals, conduct such tests among school children, college students and industrial workers.

It Happened Here

The grandmother down the street is a Swiss; she gardens in season, rakes leaves and burns them and hustles about in the cold despite her eighty years and more, her grey hair wisping about her face and her calico dress guiltless of coat or sweater. "If I die, I die—while I live, I go about as I please." She brot over roots from her flowering bush and forestalled thanks. "Never thank any one for flowers the heart knows; it is bad luck to thank for them. Emma says don't rake the leaves when the neighbors don't; sure, it's hard work and I'm old but if I die, I die, but I do as I please while I live." We wonder if a doughty little Republic across the water would be surprised at her . . . Wind and ice didn't daunt the birds but changes in their familiars did; the bird bath was only a pedestal, marking a known drinking place, and bewildered sparrows circled it until the cardinal came, lit on the pedestal and registered the surprise you might feel if your drinking glass proved to be only a stem. A cardinal on a pedestal on a bitter day of ice is a touch every garden should have. The blackbirds came by twos and threes and there was acrimonious comment on the failure of the plumbong. When warm water was put out, the squirrel got his drink before the water froze; after that, he simply sat in the bowl and licked the ice; when he left the bluejay lit on the edge of the bowl and chipped the ice vigorously, eating the bits like grain.

The little two-year old was lost—
Ring the bell, ring the bell!
Sisters searched everywhere
Rushing pell-mell,
But no baby was found,
Not even a shoe,
So the neighbors all searched
With great hullabaloo!
Then Mother came home,
Went straight to the bed
And there in her nest was the
Dear sleepy head.

American Legion News
Merle Guild Post No. 208

Merle Guild Post No. 208 held a regular meeting at the Legion House, Tuesday, November 26.

Tuesday evening, December 3, the Post members and the Junior Drum and Bugle Corps will pay a visit to the Prospect Heights school and will present a United States Flag to the Campfire Girls of Prospect Heights.

In the near future the Post will sponsor a double header basketball game at the high school for the benefit of the Community Christmast Basket fund. Two local teams the Arlington Racers and the Smith and Dawson team will play opposing teams which will be selected by them. Good games are assured and it is hoped that the public will patronize this event in the same spirit displayed at the benefit game which was sponsored in December, 1939. All receipts will be turned over to the Community Christmas Basket committee for their use in providing baskets for the needy at Christmas time. Due notice will be given of the date for this event.

Herman H. Baumann reported that the drive for Boy Scout funds was progressing in a very gratifying manner and that the response of the citizens of our village to the solicitation for funds indicated a marked increase in the interest of the public in the Scout movement.

The next meeting of the Post will be held Wednesday evening, December 18, at which time a group of volunteers on the next draft list will be invited as guests of the Post and, if possible, the first two volunteers, already enlisted in the service of their country, will be invited to the meeting.

Victor A. Pecchia is now confined to the Edward Hines hospital for observation and treatment and his comrades and a host of friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

A ceremony for the disposition of an unserviceable United States Flag was exemplified by the Post Color Guard and Post officers.

Comrades remember the date of the next Post meeting, December 18. Visiting Comrades are always welcome.

This Week in Wheeling

LUCILE SCHNEIDER, Editor Phone 40

A meeting of the Wheeling Recreation club will be held next Wednesday evening, Dec. 4, at 8 p. m. in the Wheeling school. Some important matters will be presented for consideration. All members are urged to be present and any adults interested in the work of the club are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemke are rejoicing upon the safe arrival of their first grandchild, George, Jr., born on Nov. 15, to their daughter Mrs. George Grotpietz of Glenview.

Mrs. Ralph Taylor is enjoying a two weeks vacation from her duties as manager of the Wheeling telephone exchange.

Miss Joanne Raschka, of Wauwatosa, Wis., was a guest at the Morrison home last week.

Friends of the James Craig family of Northbrook, were interested to hear of their trip to Fair Grange, Ill., last week, for the golden wedding celebration of Mr. Craig's parents.

The Ray Lesch family enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Lesch's parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schuler, her brother Burness, and niece Berniece Schuler, all of Welcome, Minn., for the Thanksgiving week-end. The Schulers had decided not to come because of the heavy snow fall in Minnesota. However, telegrams from the Lesch's and their son Vernon, persuaded them to "dig-out" in time to make the trip. They told of snow-blocked highways near Welcome, where even the snow plow was stuck for three days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Allais and daughters Janet and Edith of Cincinnati, spent the holiday week-end at the E. L. Carpenter home.

The Leslie Behrens family of Deerfield, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Huber and Miss Kitty Yaeger of Highland Park, were guests at the Victor Haben home on Thanksgiving Day.

Indignant Claimant Finds He Could Have Avoided Delay

Delay in receiving his old-age and survivors insurance benefits recently prompted a local claimant to write an indignant letter to the Social Security Board in Washington. He learned from the reply he received that the delay could have been avoided if he had been able to furnish proof of his age when he filed his claim.

Miss Ellen McGuire, manager of the Social Security Board field office at 1603 Orrington Avenue, Evanston, Illinois, who reported this, said that the claimant complained because he had applied for benefits at the Evanston field office of the Board in July and did not receive a decision until October. Officials of the Board looked into the case, Miss McGuire said, and found from the records that when the claimant filed he had no birth certificate, family Bible entry, or other record which would satisfactorily prove him to be 65 years of age.

The claimant had great difficulty in recalling any persons who might know the date of his birth. He was asked if he had sisters or brothers who might make a sworn statement regarding his date of birth but he was quite sure no one knew. After two visits to the office the claimant stated that a man he knew in a distant city, who was the same age as he, might remember the date of his birth. A letter was immediately sent to that man but a month passed before an answer was received. In that letter the man stated what he thought was approximately the date of birth of the claimant and also offered the information that the claimant's sister, who lived in another city, was in possession of a family Bible in which the claimant's date of birth was recorded.

The sister was immediately contacted but as she was old and ill she could not readily produce the information requested. However, a second visit by a member of the Social Security Board field office near her was made and a certification of the information regarding the date of birth of the claimant was secured.

Within two weeks after this proof of age was received the applicant received a letter stating that he had been awarded regular monthly benefits.

Social Security Board officials recommend that those who expect to be eligible for benefits in the future, even though they do not expect to retire for several years, may well check up on available proofs as to their date of birth. They state that the gathering of such proof of age has been the single factor occasioning the greatest delay in paying benefits.

October Jobs Up By 13 Per Cent Over September

Jobs filled by Illinois employers through the Illinois State Employment Service during the month of October showed an increase of more than 13 per cent over the number filled in September, State Director of Labor Martin P. Durkin announced today.

This record also represented an increase of more than 18 per cent over the number of jobs filled in October of last year.

A total of 16,177 jobs was filled by the 58 offices of the Employment Service in October. This compared with 14,279 jobs filled in September of this year, and 13,661 in October of 1939.

"These figures are for jobs in private industry," Director Durkin said. "There seems to be no question that employment is better than it was at this time last year. However, the increase in the number of jobs filled does not necessarily mean that general employment has increased by a similar percentage. Much of this increase is accounted for by the fact that employers are becoming more familiar with the State Employment Service and are using it to a greater extent.

"We are finding an increased demand for skilled workers, especially in the metal trades. Skilled workers in these lines who are looking for jobs should register with the nearest office of the State Employment Service at once."

Most of the plants in the defense industries are getting their workers through the Illinois State Employment Service, Director Durkin said. Workers seeking jobs in these industries should register with the Service without delay.

October Jobs Up By 13 Per Cent Over September

Jobs filled by Illinois employers through the Illinois State Employment Service during the month of October showed an increase of more than 13 per cent over the number filled in September, State Director of Labor Martin P. Durkin announced today.

This record also represented an increase of more than 18 per cent over the number of jobs filled in October of last year.

A total of 16,177 jobs was filled by the 58 offices of the Employment Service in October. This compared with 14,279 jobs filled in September of this year, and 13,661 in October of 1939.

"These figures are for jobs in private industry," Director Durkin said. "There seems to be no question that employment is better than it was at this time last year. However, the increase in the number of jobs filled does not necessarily mean that general employment has increased by a similar percentage. Much of this increase is accounted for by the fact that employers are becoming more familiar with the State Employment Service and are using it to a greater extent.

"We are finding an increased demand for skilled workers, especially in the metal trades. Skilled workers in these lines who are looking for jobs should register with the nearest office of the State Employment Service at once."

Most of the plants in the defense industries are getting their workers through the Illinois State Employment Service, Director Durkin said. Workers seeking jobs in these industries should register with the Service without delay.

That's why we went right to the heart of the matter—and packed a bigger-than-ever wallop in that husky Dynaflash power plant.

It's that wallop that's making Buick the value champion all over the country today.

The wallop that lets you travel farther on every gallon of gas—as much as 10% to 15% more miles on each gallon!

The wallop that swings you up the hills without ever touching the gearshift, that lets you throttle down in traffic to creep-speed, then lift away again still in high.

It's an exclusively Buick wallop—the wallop of FIREBALL design and Compound Carburetion, available in no other car on the market!

AUTO THIEVES HIT CULVERT, ONE DEAD

Two auto thieves wrecked the car they had stolen in Chicago by driving it against a culvert near the junction of Rand and Palatine roads last Wednesday morning.

Leonard Popsinski, Chicago, and his brother, Irving, took a car from a used car lot last Tuesday and, according to the former's statement, were on their way to Wisconsin to seek work. The police determined that they had been travelling in a southerly direction and had skidded into a culvert, damaging the car.

Irving was taken to the Northwestern hospital by the county police where he later died.

Rain Saturday morning was blamed for a collision at Lake and Milwaukee avenues in which two Chicago drivers were involved.

Edward Miller, traveling north on Milwaukee avenue, struck the car of Stanley Bajnowski as the latter attempted to cross from Lake avenue. Damage was confined to the two vehicles and the nearby fence of Schufreiders Inn.

PALATINE, ARLINGTON MOTORISTS COLLIDE

Casey, state director of public works and the county of Cook asking that a mandamus be issued to compel them to file a condemnation suit to ascertain the compensation due for damage done the properties by the daming of a small stream causing the flooding of plaintiff's lands.

HIT-AND-RUN VICTIM SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES

William Knals, hit and run victim October 28 at the junction of Higgins and State roads, succumbed to his injuries Monday afternoon with the identity of the motorist still a mystery.

Knals formerly worked on the Irving Scharringhausen farm near Arlington Heights. There are no known relatives of the deceased.

Errol Flynn As 'Sea Hawk' Heads Sunday Show In Des Plaines

The latest in the successful Dr. Kildare series, "Dr. Kildare Goes Home," with Lew Ayres, Lionel Barrymore, Laraine Day and all the other favorites, heads the double feature screen show at the Des Plaines Theatre. The second picture on the program, which concludes a three day run on Saturday night, is the Joan Blondell, Dick Powell co-starrer, "I Want A Divorce." Mr. and Mrs. Powell in real life play Mr. and Mrs. in reel life in this hilariously funny comedy. The newest issue of Paramount News, and chapter No. 4 of the Dead End Kids serial, "Junior G-Men" completes the show.

On Sunday, Errol Flynn comes to the Des Plaines screen in the kind of an adventurous role that suits him best, as "The Sea Hawk." Prominent in the cast of this hit production are Brenda Marshall, Claude Rains, Alan Hale and Donald Crisp. "The Great Profile," a satire starring John Barrymore completes the double feature program which runs for three days.

Leading Lady Wears Only Three Changes of Calico Dresses In "The Westerner"

Extremely unusual is the fact that Gary Cooper's leading lady in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Westerner," now showing at the Catlow Theatre, had only three changes of costume in the picture. The girl is a newcomer, Doris Davenport and she wears simple calico dresses costing not over five dollars apiece. Miss Davenport plays the part of a hardy frontier girl, whose clothes are made for hard usage rather than for their pictorial beauty.

What goes on behind the scenes of a Broadway stage hit is hilariously divulged in "No Time For Comedy," the James Stewart-Rosalind Russell starring picture which begins a two day engagement at the Catlow Theatre on Sunday.

"No Time For Comedy" was a Broadway stage hit itself before it was brought to the screen. Authored by S. N. Behrman, outstanding American playwright, it was adapted for the screen by Julius J. and Philip G. Epstein, and in spite of its title, it is all comedy.

Supporting the two stars are Charlie Ruggles, Genevieve Tobin, Allyn Joslyn, Clarence Kolb and dusky Louise Beavers.

An array of singers, dancers and comedy favorites, and nine new songs will be presented in "Argentine Nights," Universal musical film coming Tuesday to the Catlow Theatre.

The Ritz Brothers are co-starred in the picture with the Andrews Sisters, swing trio whose songs on phonograph records, radio and the stage are known to millions. A galaxy of hand-picked beauties appear in colorful festival scenes.

Action of the story takes place in the glamorous atmosphere of the Argentine pampas country, and is highlighted throughout by lilting music and hilarious comedy.

Double featured on Tuesday with "Argentine Nights," is the trail-blazing adventure, "Wagon Train" starring Tim Holt, and featuring Ray Whitley, Emmett Lynn and Martha O'Driscoll.

"The picture nobody dared touch" sums up the story behind James Roosevelt's presentation of "Pastor Hall," the sensational and gripping expose of life in Nazi-ridden Germany which will be on the view at the Catlow Theatre through United Artists release on Wednesday and Thursday.

"Breakfast" Is Hailed As Year's Happiest Hit

Loretta Young, who shot to a new fame with her comedy role in Columbia's "The Doctor Takes a Wife," and Melvyn Douglas, who already possesses a distinguished record as one of Hollywood's most gifted farceurs, are the new comedy starring combination of Columbia's "He Stayed for Breakfast," which plays Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Palatine Theatre. Hailed as one of the season's most delightful love-on-the-run laughfests, "He Stayed for Breakfast" is set in a Paris background and hilariously describes the romance of a politically-conscious cafe waiter and the estranged wife of a pompous banker. Douglas, in the former role, is a fugitive from the law for having taken a pot-shot at the financier; Miss Young connives at his escape and, in the end, takes a shot at the financier herself.

"The Man Who Talked Too Much," starring George Brent and Virginia Bruce is a dynamic story concerning a handsome young lawyer who falls into the hands of gangsters and becomes their mouthpiece, gaining a reputation as the smoothest criminal lawyer in the city. His lovely blonde secretary patiently stands by waiting for his eventual regeneration—a change of mind which arrives after a series of swiftly-paced scenes wherein the life of his younger brother is threatened. The picture is co-featured with "He Stayed For Breakfast."

Attacking the problem of the chance of young Americans to marry and establish homes of their own in the midst of a big city, "We Who Are Young," featuring Lana Turner and John Shelton, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Errol Flynn As 'Sea Hawk' Heads Sunday Show In Des Plaines

The latest in the successful Dr. Kildare series, "Dr. Kildare Goes Home," with Lew Ayres, Lionel Barrymore, Laraine Day and all the other favorites, heads the double feature screen show at the Des Plaines Theatre. The second picture on the program, which concludes a three day run on Saturday night, is the Joan Blondell, Dick Powell co-starrer, "I Want A Divorce." Mr. and Mrs. Powell in real life play Mr. and Mrs. in reel life in this hilariously funny comedy. The newest issue of Paramount News, and chapter No. 4 of the Dead End Kids serial, "Junior G-Men" completes the show.

On Sunday, Errol Flynn comes to the Des Plaines screen in the kind of an adventurous role that suits him best, as "The Sea Hawk." Prominent in the cast of this hit production are Brenda Marshall, Claude Rains, Alan Hale and Donald Crisp. "The Great Profile," a satire starring John Barrymore completes the double feature program which runs for three days.

Leading Lady Wears Only Three Changes of Calico Dresses In "The Westerner"

Extremely unusual is the fact that Gary Cooper's leading lady in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Westerner," now showing at the Catlow Theatre, had only three changes of costume in the picture. The girl is a newcomer, Doris Davenport and she wears simple calico dresses costing not over five dollars apiece. Miss Davenport plays the part of a hardy frontier girl, whose clothes are made for hard usage rather than for their pictorial beauty.

What goes on behind the scenes of a Broadway stage hit is hilariously divulged in "No Time For Comedy," the James Stewart-Rosalind Russell starring picture which begins a two day engagement at the Catlow Theatre on Sunday.

"No Time For Comedy" was a Broadway stage hit itself before it was brought to the screen. Authored by S. N. Behrman, outstanding American playwright, it was adapted for the screen by Julius J. and Philip G. Epstein, and in spite of its title, it is all comedy.

Supporting the two stars are Charlie Ruggles, Genevieve Tobin, Allyn Joslyn, Clarence Kolb and dusky Louise Beavers.

An array of singers, dancers and comedy favorites, and nine new songs will be presented in "Argentine Nights," Universal musical film coming Tuesday to the Catlow Theatre.

The Ritz Brothers are co-starred in the picture with the Andrews Sisters, swing trio whose songs on phonograph records, radio and the stage are known to millions. A galaxy of hand-picked beauties appear in colorful festival scenes.

Action of the story takes place in the glamorous atmosphere of the Argentine pampas country, and is highlighted throughout by lilting music and hilarious comedy.

Double featured on Tuesday with "Argentine Nights," is the trail-blazing adventure, "Wagon Train" starring Tim Holt, and featuring Ray Whitley, Emmett Lynn and Martha O'Driscoll.

"The picture nobody dared touch" sums up the story behind James Roosevelt's presentation of "Pastor Hall," the sensational and gripping expose of life in Nazi-ridden Germany which will be on the view at the Catlow Theatre through United Artists release on Wednesday and Thursday.

"Breakfast" Is Hailed As Year's Happiest Hit

Loretta Young, who shot to a new fame with her comedy role in Columbia's "The Doctor Takes a Wife," and Melvyn Douglas, who already possesses a distinguished record as one of Hollywood's most gifted farceurs, are the new comedy starring combination of Columbia's "He Stayed for Breakfast," which plays Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Palatine Theatre. Hailed as one of the season's most delightful love-on-the-run laughfests, "He Stayed for Breakfast" is set in a Paris background and hilariously describes the romance of a politically-conscious cafe waiter and the estranged wife of a pompous banker. Douglas, in the former role, is a fugitive from the law for having taken a pot-shot at the financier; Miss Young connives at his escape and, in the end, takes a shot at the financier herself.

"The Man Who Talked Too Much," starring George Brent and Virginia Bruce is a dynamic story concerning a handsome young lawyer who falls into the hands of gangsters and becomes their mouthpiece, gaining a reputation as the smoothest criminal lawyer in the city. His lovely blonde secretary patiently stands by waiting for his eventual regeneration—a change of mind which arrives after a series of swiftly-paced scenes wherein the life of his younger brother is threatened. The picture is co-featured with "He Stayed For Breakfast."

Attacking the problem of the chance of young Americans to marry and establish homes of their own in the midst of a big city, "We Who Are Young," featuring Lana Turner and John Shelton, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Soil and Crop Improvement Associations

State legislatures have generally encouraged the organizations of farmers' crop, soil and home improvement associations as sound educational devices. The Illinois legislature first recognized their importance in 1913 when it passed "an act to enable the county boards to appropriate funds for the use of soil and crop improvement and home improvement associations of their several counties."

This law states that "the county boards . . . are authorized and empowered to appropriate to and for the use of county soil and crop improvement associations and home improvement associations, or other associations organized for the improvement of general agriculture or home conditions, a sum not to exceed $5,000 per annum . . ."

The act further provides that "it shall be the duty of the treasurer of such association receiving money from the county board to prepare at least annually a complete and detailed statement or report of the manner in which the money shall have been expended."

This law has not been used very much in Illinois, due in part no doubt to the substantial membership fees paid by farmers to their organizations. In some other states county board appropriations form a substantial portion of the funds available to farmers' organizations. Additional aid is given Illinois farmers and their organizations through a direct appropriation of the state legislature to pay a portion of the salaries of county farm and home advisers.

The law relative to soil and crop improvement associations is in the Illinois Revised Statutes, chapter 34, sections 158 and 159.

Hybrid Corn No Substitute For Soil Fertility

Despite Illinois farmers' acceptance of hybrid corn on 77 per cent of their total acreage planted to corn in 1940, hybrid corn is not a substitute for soil fertility, warns C. M. Linsley, extension soil conservationist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

However, explains Linsley, hybrid corn is an efficient crop in using soil fertility to produce higher yields. Good hybrids have the ability to produce higher yields than open-pollinated because they have the ability to take up and use more fertility.

Many Illinois soils, after years of hard farming can not supply more fertility than an average crop of open-pollinated corn can use. Consequently, on these soils hybrid corn has little advantage in yields over open-pollinated.

On the Mt. Morris soil experiment field in Ogle county a plot of open-pollinated corn with no soil treatment has yielded 39 bushels an acre for a three-year average. Hybrid corn grown under the same conditions averaged 43 bushels, only four bushels more.

Where hybrid corn was grown on land which had lime, rock phosphate, potash and a sweet clover green manure crop, the average was 88 bushels, an increase of 45 bushels over the hybrid on the untreated plot and 22 bushels more than open-pollinated on treated soil.

"Farmers' experiences also show that if hybrid corn is to produce higher yields than open-pollinated corn, we must supply the soil with the necessary fertility to produce the increase. A plentiful supply of nitrogen is one of the important requirements for good yields in hybrid corn, and this means that more and better clovers must be grown. On some soils limestone alone may be all that is needed for good clover crops, while on other soils phosphate or potash may be needed in addition to lime, both for clovers or for the corn crops," Linsley said.

Industrial Ant Hills

According to Harry Hopkins, secretary of commerce, 25 per cent of the nation's wage earners are concentrated around 11 large cities, and one-fourth of the industrial plants are located in seven counties out of a total of 3,070 in the United States. The counties embrace New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Detroit and Boston, and the 11 cities referred to include all in the list except Boston, also Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Providence, R. I. Thomas Jefferson referred to large cities as "cesspools of civilization." In this country today is a move toward decentralization of industry. Whether it will succeed time alone will tell.

Limestone Can't Help Soil Much Until 'Broken In'

Like a colt harnessed for the first time, limestone can't do much good until it's "broken in."

That's why it's important to put limestone on the land several months ahead of the legume seeding date, says L. B. Miller, agronomist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Liming now or anytime this fall will "sweeten" the soil for a red clover or sweet clover seeding next spring. Freezing and thawing this winter and disking the soil before seeding next spring will mix the lime with the surface soil and make an ideal condition for legumes.

Some soils also may need phosphorus and potassium to grow good legume crops, Miller explains. He recommends that farmers also test their soils for deficiencies of these elements, as well as for limestone needs.

Farmers wishing to have their soils tested are invited to make arrangements with their local farm advisers.

Spreading of limestone and fertilizers and the growing of soil-building legumes are two of five practices being stressed in 1940 to enable farmers to get more conservation of soil, water and human resources. The other practices are contour farming, pasture improvement and tree planting. Cooperating in the conservation program are the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and various agencies and services of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Miller also reminds farmers that they may obtain grants of limestone and phosphate in place of their AAA conservation payments under the provisions of the 1941 program. The conservation materials program now applies to every county in Illinois.

Soil and Crop Improvement Associations

State legislatures have generally encouraged the organizations of farmers' crop, soil and home improvement associations as sound educational devices. The Illinois legislature first recognized their importance in 1913 when it passed "an act to enable the county boards to appropriate funds for the use of soil and crop improvement and home improvement associations of their several counties."

This law states that "the county boards . . . are authorized and empowered to appropriate to and for the use of county soil and crop improvement associations and home improvement associations, or other associations organized for the improvement of general agriculture or home conditions, a sum not to exceed $5,000 per annum . . ."

The act further provides that "it shall be the duty of the treasurer of such association receiving money from the county board to prepare at least annually a complete and detailed statement or report of the manner in which the money shall have been expended."

This law has not been used very much in Illinois, due in part no doubt to the substantial membership fees paid by farmers to their organizations. In some other states county board appropriations form a substantial portion of the funds available to farmers' organizations. Additional aid is given Illinois farmers and their organizations through a direct appropriation of the state legislature to pay a portion of the salaries of county farm and home advisers.

The law relative to soil and crop improvement associations is in the Illinois Revised Statutes, chapter 34, sections 158 and 159.

Hybrid Corn No Substitute For Soil Fertility

Despite Illinois farmers' acceptance of hybrid corn on 77 per cent of their total acreage planted to corn in 1940, hybrid corn is not a substitute for soil fertility, warns C. M. Linsley, extension soil conservationist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

However, explains Linsley, hybrid corn is an efficient crop in using soil fertility to produce higher yields. Good hybrids have the ability to produce higher yields than open-pollinated because they have the ability to take up and use more fertility.

Many Illinois soils, after years of hard farming can not supply more fertility than an average crop of open-pollinated corn can use. Consequently, on these soils hybrid corn has little advantage in yields over open-pollinated.

On the Mt. Morris soil experiment field in Ogle county a plot of open-pollinated corn with no soil treatment has yielded 39 bushels an acre for a three-year average. Hybrid corn grown under the same conditions averaged 43 bushels, only four bushels more.

Where hybrid corn was grown on land which had lime, rock phosphate, potash and a sweet clover green manure crop, the average was 88 bushels, an increase of 45 bushels over the hybrid on the untreated plot and 22 bushels more than open-pollinated on treated soil.

"Farmers' experiences also show that if hybrid corn is to produce higher yields than open-pollinated corn, we must supply the soil with the necessary fertility to produce the increase. A plentiful supply of nitrogen is one of the important requirements for good yields in hybrid corn, and this means that more and better clovers must be grown. On some soils limestone alone may be all that is needed for good clover crops, while on other soils phosphate or potash may be needed in addition to lime, both for clovers or for the corn crops," Linsley said.

Limestone Can't Help Soil Much Until 'Broken In'

Like a colt harnessed for the first time, limestone can't do much good until it's "broken in."

That's why it's important to put limestone on the land several months ahead of the legume seeding date, says L. B. Miller, agronomist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Liming now or anytime this fall will "sweeten" the soil for a red clover or sweet clover seeding next spring. Freezing and thawing this winter and disking the soil before seeding next spring will mix the lime with the surface soil and make an ideal condition for legumes.

Some soils also may need phosphorus and potassium to grow good legume crops, Miller explains. He recommends that farmers also test their soils for deficiencies of these elements, as well as for limestone needs.

Farmers wishing to have their soils tested are invited to make arrangements with their local farm advisers.

Spreading of limestone and fertilizers and the growing of soil-building legumes are two of five practices being stressed in 1940 to enable farmers to get more conservation of soil, water and human resources. The other practices are contour farming, pasture improvement and tree planting. Cooperating in the conservation program are the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and various agencies and services of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Miller also reminds farmers that they may obtain grants of limestone and phosphate in place of their AAA conservation payments under the provisions of the 1941 program. The conservation materials program now applies to every county in Illinois.

Industrial Ant Hills

According to Harry Hopkins, secretary of commerce, 25 per cent of the nation's wage earners are concentrated around 11 large cities, and one-fourth of the industrial plants are located in seven counties out of a total of 3,070 in the United States. The counties embrace New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Detroit and Boston, and the 11 cities referred to include all in the list except Boston, also Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Providence, R. I. Thomas Jefferson referred to large cities as "cesspools of civilization." In this country today is a move toward decentralization of industry. Whether it will succeed time alone will tell.

Mac Says-

by GERALD A. MC ELROY

This week the season opens on Friday in both of the local cage conferences and we are about to give our opinion of the way the teams will finish in the coming campaign. It is a much tougher job picking teams in the Northeast conference inasmuch as we did not see them play many conference games last year. In addition it is our opinion that the clubs are much more evenly matched in the larger league this year than in the Northwest Conference.

Last season the finish in the Northwest Conference was as follows: Palatine, Wauconda, Barrington, Ela, Antioch, Grant, Bensenville, and Northbrook. In the lightweight division the finish was Barrington, Bensenville, Grant, Ela, Palatine, Antioch, Northbrook, and Wauconda.

Standings May Change Little

This year the teams which lost the most lettermen by graduation were the ones which finished first and second in the lightweight standings, namely Barrington and Bensenville. After seeing all the teams in action this year except Bensenville we are inclined to think that the standings this year will vary little from the final ones of last season. At any rate we would be willing to bet that the same teams are in the first division. Here are our picks and reasons:

1. Palatine or Wauconda

The Pirates have a team of four year veterans with speed and two boys over six feet tall. Their reserves are much better than Wauconda's. Wauconda has a veteran team but lacks height. They are the class of the north section of the loop.

3. Ela or Barrington

Ela has in Knigge, Kropp, and Gleason better individual performers than Barrington, but the latter has a better balanced squad and will improve more as the season progresses. Their recent 28-27 game indicates even strength.

5. Northbrook or Antioch.

Northbrook has the tallest team in the league and six lettermen. They may be the dark horse of the race if they can speed up and start hitting the basket. Antioch finished fifth last year and has two good boys in Hawkins and Harvey as a nucleus.

7. Grant or Bensenville.

Both teams have small boys. Grant has several veterans, but lacks first class material after naming three boys. Bensenville will have last year's lights plus Gutnick and can be expected to improve but may lose their first three games to strong south section opponents before the team hits its stride.

Close Race in Northeast

We name the teams in the Northeast in a very hesitant manner. In fact most any team might cop the trophy but some have better returning material than others. Last year they finished as follows: Crystal Lake (undefeated), Niles, Libertyville, Leyden, Arlington, Lake Forest, Warren, and Woodstock. In the lightweight division the standings were Crystal Lake, Niles, Lake Forest, Arlington, Woodstock, Leyden, Warren, and Libertyville. Our picks are grouped as follows:

1. Leyden

We pick Leyden because of six lettermen of whom three are over six foot three inches in height. These boys headed by the Doss twins (6-5) and little Bogacz (5-6) tied Palatine for the lightweight title as freshmen. This year they are overdue.

2. Niles, Libertyville or Arlington.

Any of the three might become champ of the conference. They have height, basket shooting, and potential first division strength. In an even race it will depend upon which reaches peak form first. If Libertyville had more good scorers than Strand they would be the pick. If Schulenberg is not lost to Arlington and Becker, Mueller, Heinze, and Harth come through, the Cards may have a fine team. Niles looked good against New Trier and will get better.

5. Woodstock, Crystal Lake or Lake Forest.

Woodstock has a tall veteran team but may not develop to the point of a contender. Crystal Lake has a good team from last year's champ lightweights and may be the surprise team of the league. Lohman heads a Lake Forest team of which we know very little but Tom Short usually has a strong contender. Any of these three may finish near the top. In fact this group might even produce the champ.

8. Warren.

We hate to rank Kelton's team this low. He has a fast team of veterans who handle the ball exceptionally well. The only reason we pick them last is because they have no six foot boy on their squad and those rebounds will count too much in a league where all the other teams are unusually tall this year.

There it is and next February you are entitled to tell us just what poor pickers we are. To tell the truth we certainly would not put any money on that Northeast conference race. It looks like a real race to us.

Favorites Friday

Favorites in the opening conference games Friday in the Northwest Conference are Palatine over Bensenville, Barrington to nose out Northbrook, Wauconda to easily whip Grant, and Ela to outpoint Antioch in a close game. In the Northeast Leyden is favorite over Crystal Lake, Libertyville over Lake Forest, Woodstock has the edge on Warren, and Niles and Arlington stage the close one of the week with Niles a slight favorite.

Selected Shorts

The game of the week in Northern Illinois finds Hebron at Dundee on Friday. Both were state finalists last year. Hebron still has four of last year's regulars in Kjellstrom (6-5), Voltz (6-5), Burgett (6-2), and Judson (6-0) . . . Lake Forest has a new six foot two center named Larson, a transfer from Norfolk, Virginia. He got 4 baskets in the Scouts opening game with Zion . . . Ela also gained a good transfer in Moore from Oklahoma, a fast accurate shooting five foot five inch forward . . . Wesolowski of Barrington and Dianis of Wauconda, members of varsity cage squads, were severely injured in recent hunting accidents . . . The big game next week finds Crane Tech, Chicago champ, playing at Palatine on Saturday, Dec. 7 . . . Kent's Niles lightweights, a sophomore quintet, appear to us as a strong Northeast Conference contender . . . Kropp of Ela may be the successor of Ela's Glen Knigge as conference scoring leader. The little fellow tallied 30 points in two games last week.

Arlington Loses Non-Conference Opener, 38-30

Cards Show Promise By Leading Wheaton Five Most of Way

Wheaton and Arlington hooked up in a tight battle for the greater part of four quarters last Friday night on the Cardinals' home floor before Wheaton pulled away to a 38-30 victory. The game was well-played and the score was close, with Arlington leading most of the way.

Wheaton took the lead late in the third quarter, but Arlington came back to trail by one point early in the fourth. The veteran Wheaton team then put on a beautiful display of ball-handling and floor-work, forcing Arlington to come far out to try for the ball. While Wheaton failed to break through, they drew numerous free-throws as the Cardinals guarded closely, and cashed in six of seven charity tosses in the last five minutes.

Wheaton, with the team intact which gave Dundee its toughest conference game last year, showed class at every spot. Chesbro was a fine center with his fakes and rebound work. Fisher and Barry scored three and two baskets respectively at the forward positions. Whitaker and Yarbrough were two of the best guards seen on the Arlington floor in several years.

Arlington played a less consistent game, using its height advantage effectively only occasionally. Cardinal screen plays worked more effectively than those of their opponents as Wheaton players repeatedly lost their men on these maneuvers. On the other hand Wheaton's forwards and one of the guards, Whitaker, broke away from the Arlington defense on quick drives several times early in the game to score valuable baskets.

Wheaton's team, which will be one to watch in state-wide competition this year, gave Arlington Heights basketball fans a view of the game as played in one of the good leagues—the Little Seven.

The Cardinals indicated that they will give a good account of themselves in their own loop this year. They displayed poise, considerable skill, and the ability to learn in a game. Although ten boys played, and played competently, only one started the season last year on the varsity. The squad should be able to take occasional temporary losses of men in stride during the season, if any occur.

The Arlington reserve team, known to the public as the Green Tornadoes for many years, lost to Wheaton's lightweights 36-24. With Morici, a sophomore, getting away for seven baskets, the home team stayed on the heels of the visitors into the fourth quarter. Thereafter Leishon, Dryden, and Bassett connected for five baskets while the Arlington boys could get only three points.

Seventeen boys got into the game for the losers, and one more than that number played for the winner. Hamburg and Dorband did some excellent work at guard. Several other boys showed definite promise for the coming campaign.

Arlington opens its conference season Friday in a home game against Niles township. The first game will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Bees' Eyes

The impression that bees are attracted to flowers brightest to human eyes has been proved erroneous by experimenters of the American Museum of Natural History. They have learned that bees and other insects see colors beyond the ultraviolet end of the spectrum. Ultraviolet, to the human eye, is black, the absence of light. When photographed through ultraviolet filters, certain flowers reveal patterns very different from the colors seen by the human retina.

Ela Beats Barrington By One Point In Thrilling Finish

Ela nosed out Barrington in a thrilling finish to a very close game last Friday night 28-27 at Lake Zurich. Barrington's pony team had an easy time defeating Ela's lights 32-18.

In the varsity tilt Barrington was in front 6-3 at the quarter, but Ela forged ahead 10-9 at the half. In the second half both teams started to hit the loop more consistently and the lead see-sawed back and forth. Barrington had a one point lead at the three quarter mark but Ela went ahead with three minutes to play and stalled successfully. Kropp was Ela's main scorer with 13 points. DeWitt collected nine points for Barrington.

Ela had 11 field goals, made six out of 20 free throw attempts and was charged with 15 personals while the Bronchos also made 11 baskets, hit only five out of 17 free throws and were likewise assessed with 15 penalties.

Wauconda Winner Over Barrington

Wauconda outplayed Barrington in a pre-conference game last week to whip the Bronchos 25-19. Wauconda led through most of the game though Barrington did take a three point margin late in the third quarter. At this point Oswald made a basket and was fouled from the rear thus getting two free throws which were both made good. After this the Bulldogs stayed in front.

Good ball handling and fine free throwing were the Wauconda assets. Barrington used a large squad and the combination which included Tichy and Zimmerman was the one which appeared to display the best offense.

Barrington's smooth ball handling lightweights dominated their game to win 21-13. Farwell was best for Barrington and Harris for Wauconda.

Palatine Alums Beaten 44-13 At Homecoming

Pirates Roll Up 19-0 Score In First Quarter, Then Subs Take Over

Palatine's annual homecoming on Thanksgiving eve was a success in every way. The Pirates trounced the Alums 44-13, the lightweights nosed out Arlington's lights 27-24, and a capacity crowd saw the games and danced to the music of the Myrland-Sanford orchestra until midnight. The famous Pirate band played, marched through special formations, and put on special baton twirling exhibitions between halves of the games.

19-0 First Quarter

The Palatine varsity team ran up a 19-0 first quarter lead on the Alumni and then retired until the half while the reserve five increased the margin to 26-3. Midway in the last period the regulars again took over. Smooth passing, good ball handling, 27% basket shooting and an alertness which took advantage of opponents' weaknesses, marked the playing of the Palatine boys. The opposition was, however, not strong enough to afford a real test of the team's strength. Hahnfeldt and Hildebrandt scored 10 and 13 points respectively.

The Palatine lightweights won their game in a thrilling finish which saw Arlington knot the count at 24 all in the last two minutes but lose on a free throw by Harris and a basket by Penkava. Arlington outshot the Pirates both in percentage and number of baskets from the field but their fouling gave Palatine 26 free chances of which they sank 11 while Arlington collected, but two out of 11 in this manner.

Bowlin and Bolte Hit Basket

Palatine led 15-10 at the half, but the shooting of Bowlin and Bolte evened the count in the last minutes of the game. Arlington played a more alert and consistent game than the Palatine boys. The only consistent Pirate was Howes, who got the rebounds at both baskets and scored 11 points to lead both teams.

Palatine Quintet Chalks Up Victories Over Warren, Crystal Lake

Palatine got the best of two Northeast Conference cage teams in practice sessions last week. On Monday the Pirates played a full length practice game at Crystal Lake, winning 57-40. The Lakers led 7-6 the first period, but the Pirates scored 22 points in the second period and 20 in the third to pile up a 48-24 lead starting the final period. Hahnfeldt collected a total of 17 points, Hildebrandt got 12, Snyder 11, and Hollinger and DeBerge seven each. Pearson with 14 points and R. Tipps with 10 were tops for the Lakers.

Last Friday afternoon Palatine traveled to Warren and after six eight minute periods led 53-36. The Pirate varsity was way off form but so was Warren and the score in their three periods was 25-10 for Palatine. Hildebandt got 11 points. The second fives battled three periods with Palatine ahead 28-26. Schwolow had 11 points for Palatine.

Palatine has played seven afternoon practice games to date and has won six. Evanston was beaten twice and one victory each was scored over Antioch, Libertyville, Crystal Lake, and Warren. The loss was to Dundee by six points.

Wauconda Beats McHenry, 41-21, For Third Straight Win

Wauconda easily whipped McHenry last Friday night 41-21 in a non-conference game. The Bulldogs led 19-11 at the half. Porten with 16 points and Froehlke with 13 were top scorers. McHenry won the lightweight game 24-15. It was the third straight victory for Wauconda's varsity and the third straight defeat for the lightweights.

Crane Tech, City Champs, Will Face Palatine Next Week

One of the big games on the Palatine schedule will be played a week from Saturday night, December 7, when Crane Tech meets the Pirates. Crane won the city championship last year and has three players returning from their starting five. In spite of this, Palatine, with a veteran team, is expected to give the visitors a close game although Crane will be the favorite.

Willie Dreyer Places Second In Five Mile Road Race At Waukegan

Willie Dreyer of Palatine, veteran distance runner, finished second in the fourth annual five mile road race run at Waukegan on Thanksgiving day. Dreyer's time was 28 minutes 30.6 seconds. The winner, Cecil Zirkelbach, was timed in 27 minutes 41 seconds. The race is annually sponsored by Joe Lama, proprietor of the Waukegan Recreation bowling and billiard establishment. The first four to finish received trophies.

Niles Overcomes New Trier, 28-25

Niles Township cagers who open the conference season at Arlington Friday night, defeated New Trier last Saturday night 28-25 in a thrilling overtime battle at Skokie. The Niles lights edged out New Trier 22-20.

In the varsity game the score was tied at 10 all at the half and 24 up at the end of the regulation playing time. After each team had scored a free throw in the overtime Peterson, small Niles guard scored a lay up shot and Williams tallied a free throw. The latter had scored three baskets in the last quarter to keep Niles in the game.

Niles scored nine field goals, 10 out of 19 free throws and made nine fouls. New Trier sank six field goals, 13 out of 22 free throws and was also charged with nine personals. Both teams shot poorly and this was especially true of New Trier. The latter team was made up of unusually small boys for a big suburban school.

U. S. Better Place

It appears that Angelo Vinic, former Omaha high school student, won't have to be a soldier for Mussolini after all. Angelo stowed away on a ship bound for his native Italy last November. Since arriving there he has bombarded officials and Omaha relatives with pleas for aid in obtaining a passport, so he could return home and escape being drafted into the army. Representative McLaughlin (Dem., Neb.) sent word that the American consul at Palermo, Italy, has been authorized to issue the passport.

Hitler Beats Weather

German meteorologists have developed a long-range weather forecasting system which American meteorologists believed today had enabled Adolf Hitler to time his blitzkriegs with favorable weather.

Bensenville Falls to Ela

Bensenville lost their second non-conference game in a row when they were beaten by Ela 41-28 in a game featured by excessive fouling on both sides. Each team lost three players via the penalty route. Exceptional shooting by Kropp, dimunitive Ela forward, provided the victory margin. Kropp scored 17 points and Knigge 10 for Ela. Gutnick scored nine and Sexton six for Bensenville.

The Bison lightweights won their second straight by taking a 23-13 decision. The little Bisons were in front from start to finish. South scored eight points for the winners and Webber six for the losers.

Dundee Outscores Palatine Again, 51-38

Palatine lost to Dundee Tuesday afternoon in a practice game by a score of 51 to 38. Hahnfeldt of Palatine and Schumacher of Dundee each scored 17 points. The Pirates appeared weak defensively and were below par in their shooting.

Dundee has another strong team this year. Last week they beat York 31-27 and the next night York beat Oak Park by ten points. Hebron will play at Dundee Friday.

Achieving Color Harmony

The masters of Grecian art considered color and music to be very similar in that the harmony of both are spoiled by a discordant note. To prevent colors from clashing in any form of painted decoration, the addition of a small quantity of white or black to each color used will aid in bringing about a pleasing degree of harmony.
